Johnson Seated on County Board

Succeeds Milton Allen; County to Sponsor Proposed Area Sewers

For Johnson, former Eighth Ward alderman, was elected to an assistant supervisor of Granite City township and as a member of the Madison county board of supervisors at a regular county board meeting Wednesday morning.

He succeeds the late Milton R. Allen, who was elected to his third four-year term last year. Nearly three years remain of the unexpired term.

The seating of a successor was questionable until this week, as Johnson had been named by the Granite City council, serving as the town board, while Mayor Partney appointed Mr. Allen's widow.

The board approved Johnson's credentials and Mrs. Allen's name was not introduced for consideration during the meeting.

Township Sewers
The board agreed to serve as the sponsoring unit for a proposed Sand Prairie sewage system which would serve Nameoki, Granite City, Chouteau and Venice townships in a resolution presented by Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor.

Briggs told the board that electors have added $8000 to the budgets of the four townships, and that $24,000 for a feasibility study would be placed in escrow to guarantee payment of engineers.

He explained that the sponsorship would cost the county nothing, but that the federal government, in considering sewer construction grant applications, prefers to deal with larger governmental units than the township level.

Septic Tank Overflow
The board amended the county sanitation ordinance to prevent the discharge of sewage, including the effluent from septic tanks or other on-site treatment devices, into open ditches or drainage structures along streets or highways.

Carl Buehler of Granite City township, sanitation committee chairman, said numerous complaints have been received of cesspools overflowing into streets and into neighboring yards, and the new provision authorizes the county to control such cases.

The amendment also covers other domestic, commercial or industrial wastes or any putrescible liquids.

The board heard an objection to the discharge of Donna Zumwalt as administrator of the county nursing home last month.

Says Authority Usurped
Earl Vaughtaux, her attorney, said she was removed by the board's nursing home committee which had usurped the authority of the board. He said the board had employed her, and it was the statutory duty of the board, and not the committee, to fire her if sufficient cause is shown.

Board members backed the committee's action, but agreed to a hearing on the matter to be held at a later date. Members will not be paid per diem for the hearing.

Strict enforcement of a rule was instituted in which board members are required to remain and cast a vote at all roll calls of meetings until adjournment—unless they are excused.

Canal Locks Not Damaged as Big Tow Strikes Wall

A 15-barge tow that struck the upper east wing wall of the Chain of Rocks locks shortly after 7 p.m. Monday and veered into the intermediate wall resulted in no damage to the locks and no loss of the mixed cargo of grain and steel.

The sequence of photographs on this page shows the barges heading toward the wall, rebounding against the other wall and then breaking apart. The tow, pushed by the tug "Dan Webster," broke apart in the first row of three barges. One of them, floating free, moved into the locks, but was recovered by deck hands who caught it with ropes thrown from the other barges.

The tow was reassembled at the entrance to the locks and then a proceeded downriver without further incident. Lock operators said a similar incident occurred last Saturday.

At that time, a tow of nine barges loaded with grain and pushed by the "Dan C" also struck the wing wall of the locks, but the barges broke apart and a payless payday period that began yesterday.

The accident Monday evening was viewed by Mrs. Rita Forrester, 2329 Cleveland blvd., and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bauman of New Jersey. Bauman took the exclusive pictures.

Payless Payday Brings Suit by City Employees

Unions representing Granite City municipal employees went to court today in an effort to force Mayor Donald Partney to sign paychecks for city workers and end a payless payday period that began yesterday.

Six unions joined in filing mandamus proceedings against Partney in the circuit court at Edwardsville. The petition asks the court to direct the mayor to sign the checks.

A hearing was set for July 22 by Judge Joseph Barr and summons were issued to be served on Mayor Partney. The mayor, however, was reported away from his city hall office and is not expected to return until Monday.

The city's first payless payday in recent history developed yesterday when Mayor Partney refused to sign checks for the July 1 to July 15 pay period amounting to slightly more than $55,000.

Gave Council Warning
Partney warned city council members July 6 that he would not sign payroll checks for any Mayor Partney. The mayor, however, was reported away from his city hall office and is not expected to return until Monday.

The mayor's warning climaxed a heated dispute between the mayor and a majority of the aldermen over use of two women in the police department.

The mayor placed two women on the dispatching jobs last February in what he termed an economy move, taking the action over objections of council members.

In mid-March, the council refused to approve salary payments to the women and has done so in each council session since when payrolls are approved.

Mixed comment — all of it uncomplimentary to the city leadership — met the lack of paychecks yesterday.

One employee said, "We can't pay our bills until we get paid." The township highway department, brought criticism.

$16,500 Revision in Road Budget

Gathering of 125 Reviews Spending Outlook in Nameoki

Perhaps the last meeting at which township electors will have authority to vote on budget and appropriation ordinances, do to a new bill signed by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, attracted over 125 persons Monday at the Nameoki town hall.

The large, perspiration-soaked crowd came prepared to do battle against proposed amendments to current appropriations in the township highway budget and increases in the 1970-71 budget proposed by Highway Commissioner Charles Hanks.

Special elections left the township electors three hours later without having an opportunity to approve or disapprove revisions proposed for the 1970-71 budget; the request for increases in next year's appropriation was withdrawn.

Approved by the electors were changes in highway appropriations for the current fiscal year, which terminates Aug. 31, with a total increase of $16,500 authorized to be drawn against funds still available to the road commissioner in accounts not yet depleted.

No Additional Tax
The $16,500 increase will not require any additional levy against township taxpayers, it was stressed.

Of this amount, $7500 was allocated to the Hard Road Fund for labor, increasing the appropriation from $9000 to $16,500; $3000 was added to materials and supplies, changing the original figure to $45,000; and $6000 was specified for hire of machinery, tractors and outside labor, an item previously not in the 1969-70 budget.

For the same three categories, Hanks had requested increases of $9000 for labor, $3000 for materials and supplies and $10,000 for hire of machinery and outside labor. All were reduced to the approved amounts at the commissioner's request.

Reduction in the amount sought for the current fiscal year and elimination of increases in the 1970-71 budget, when announced by Nick Vasiloff, attorney for the township highway department, brought criticism.

Clean Air Board to Renew Its Plea for Federal Grant

The major stumbling block to efforts by the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board to obtain federal funds for expansion of local enforcement and monitoring facilities apparently has been removed.

This is due to the current reorganization of the state's pollution control programs under the 1970 Illinois Environmental Protection Act, according to Henry S. Biernicki, chairman of the Granite City board.

Biernicki outlined the state's new pollution control structure and its effect on local activities during a meeting of the local air board in the city hall Monday night. He said that as a result of the state's new control setup, Granite City will renew its efforts to secure federal help.

He pointed out that the Granite City board has sought for nearly three years to obtain a federal grant to supplement local funds used in the city's air pollution control program.

The effort always was blocked by officials of the old Illinois State Air Pollution Control agency who refused to approve the Granite City application.

Needed Exemption
State officials refused the approval until Granite City could obtain an exemption, a procedure under which the state delegated full responsibility for air pollution monitoring and control to the local board.

The crash occurred at about the middle of the bridge span, just inside the Illinois line.

Mr. Koerner was pronounced dead at the scene by Madison County Coroner Robert Thomas. Roy C. Falkenstein, 45, of Cahokia, driver of the truck, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at Belleville for treatment of injuries received in the mishap.

State police said Mr. Koerner was headed east on the bridge when his car skidded on rain-slick pavement, hit the concrete divider and veered into the west lane, crashing into the truck.

He was taken to a St. Louis funeral home.

Robbers Victimize 2 Here; 3 Caught

Man Bound, Gagged; Display Home Looted; Police Arrest Three

Two robberies occurred, three persons were arrested on burglary and theft charges, and homes and business establishments were looted in major crimes occurring in the Quad-City area this week.

Richard E. Irwin, 11 Travelodge was robbed, tied and gagged by an armed Negro while he was in his apartment at 12:40 a.m. Tuesday, he reported to police at 1:15 a.m. that day.

He said he was getting ready to shampoo his hair. Someone knocked on the door and, when opened it, a young man stuck a revolver in his face and forced him back into the apartment.

Irwin was made to lie on the floor and the bandit tied his wrists to his ankles with coat hangers from a closet. He also stuck a sock in the victim's mouth and tied a necktie around it.

The robber then ransacked the apartment.

He took a wallet containing $170, a driver's license and papers, $13 from another wallet, three suits, two jackets, two guns, including a .38-caliber automatic, an amber basket case containing $15 in quarters, a green bowl containing $2 in nickels, a camera valued at $150 and a ring of keys.

Irwin placed the loot in a black two-suiter suitcase containing some underclothing, a wadded iron to remain quiet and left. The wallet was found later on a sidewalk at 25th street and Madison avenue.

Irwin worked his way over to an open closet, obtained a pair of wire cutters and frayed him. He said the robber was wearing a black cap and a green pullover shirt.

Experiment to Cut Medical Education Costs Beginning

The Illinois General Assembly has appropriated $3,500,000 to start construction in Springfield of facilities for the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine.

Dean Richard H. Moy, M.D., said the new institution will be devoted to increasing the supply of practicing physicians while reducing the cost of their training.

At the same time, he said, the School of Medicine will bring to southern and central Illinois the health care advantages of a university medical center. It will be a part of SIU at Carbondale.

The School of Medicine is currently developing affiliation agreements with the two community hospitals in Springfield, St. John's Hospital and Memorial Hospital. Both are rated as excellent institutions, Dr. Moy said, and are expanding to a total of 1400 beds.

Classrooms, laboratories and faculty offices will be needed for the new school and, for the first phase of construction, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie signed a $3,500,000 appropriation of $3,500,000.

Cadettes Leave For Wagons Ho

"Wagons Ho" was the sound heard at 8 a.m. today from 29 Granite City Girl Scout Cadettes, as they departed for Quinter, Kan.

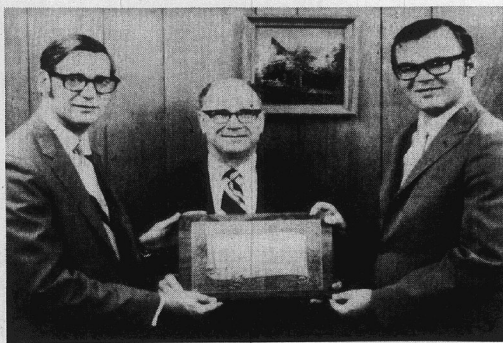

The Cadettes and leaders have been planning for their trip to Wagons Ho, Kan., for over a year. Bake and rummage sales, car washes, dinners and baby sitting are just a few projects the girls have worked at in order to earn money for their now-realized dream vacation.

After departing this morning by chartered bus, the girls were to lunch at Arrow Rock in Missouri and camp overnight at Tuttle Creek State Park, north of Manhattan, Kan.

The Cadettes will visit the Eisenhower Memorial at Friday morning and old Fort Hays in the afternoon before arriving at Wagons Ho.

During their stay at Wagons Ho, the girls will enjoy an authentic wagon train complete with wagonmaster, trail boss, drivers, cowboys, wranglers, scouts and Indian raids. The Cadettes will be eating authentic western food on the wagon train, ranging from sourdough pancakes for breakfast to green apple pie for campfire dessert.

Leaving Wagons Ho late Sunday night, the girls will stay overnight in Dodge City, Kan. On Monday night, they will stop at Junction City, Kan. A visit to the Truman Library, Independence, Mo., on Tuesday will be the final event for the girls before they return home late that afternoon.

Wiley Contributes to Urban Education Book

W. Deane Wiley, dean of the Education Division, SIU-SW is one of 17 contributing authors from major universities for a book published this summer entitled, "Toward Improved Urban Education."

Motivation for preparing the book grew out of the discovery by the authors that adequate material was not available on the urban school systems. The group decided to prepare a volume that would present constructive facts about urban educational institutions and provide a working basis for future improvements.

Professor Wiley has authored several articles and co-authored a book last year on urban education. The publisher of the urban education text is Charles A. Jones Publishing Co., a division of Wadsworth Publishing.

Combat Platoon Leader Feels Lucky to be Home

First Lieut. William Kaseberg, a combat infantry officer whose unit operated in the northernmost sector of South Vietnam, usually under hazardous conditions, still can't quite believe he was ever home and has returned home safely. "I guess I am very lucky," he said this week.

"My overseas tour seems almost like a dream. I just can't believe that a week ago I was there," the Vietnam veteran commented.

It was no dream. The combat platoon leader served 12 months with the Fifth Battalion, 46th Infantry, 198th Light Infantry Brigade, headquartered at Chu Lai, in Northern I. Corps.

Reconnaissance, Assault
His platoon doubled as a reconnaissance and assault unit, transported most of the time into trouble areas by helicopter. The infantrymen remained at trouble points for periods of one week to as long as one month before a "copter" returned to pick them up.

On one mission, the combat unit found itself operating in the vicinity of the Cambodian border, more than 100 miles distant from its home base at Chu Lai.

Action in landing zone areas frequently required the assault infantrymen to jump from a "chopper" to permit the helicopter pilot to get out quickly, Lieut. Kaseberg explained.

Most of the platoon's missions were accomplished "at the dark times of the month," the officer's aid, when movement would not be exposed by moonlight and consequently detected by the enemy.

The enemy were North Vietnamese regulars and the Viet Cong, depending on the situation. Both operated in the 46th Infantry's region.

Reunion in Thailand
While with the Americal Division's 198th LID, Lt. Kaseberg spent an "R&R" furlough at Bangkok, Thailand, where he enjoyed a reunion with his sister, Miss Dale Kaseberg, who was working at the time at a Thai hospital. She has since returned home and currently is continuing her studies at Washington University, St. Louis.

Lieut. Kaseberg also plans to resume his education this fall, studying law at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, O. Since arriving home, he has been deactivated from the Army but retains his commission in the Army Reserve.

A graduate of Granite City high school, he graduated in 1968 from Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., where he was a member of the school's ROTC unit. Upon graduation, he received a commission and entered the armed forces in September 1968.

In Vietnam, Lieut. Kaseberg was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service, the total cost for non-members $2.40. The project committee chairman is Kevin Thornsberry.

Urban to Begin Campaign for Clerk Office

Pat Urban of Collinsville, Republican nominee for Madison county clerk, will launch his campaign for the Nov. 3 election through contact with voters at the 1970 county fair. July 20-25.

He relates that, "My program is for progress and for updating the office of county clerk. If elected, I propose to reorganize, revise, streamline and update the methods and procedures."

"I would consolidate related duties, prune 'deadwood,' and reduce the number of employees to the minimum actually needed. Extra employees needed during peak periods would not be kept on the payroll full-time at taxpayers' expense. I would reduce costs and improve services."

Urban says he would offer "initiative and leadership to secure the cooperation of the several county offices, to make a study of the possibility of centralizing related functions through the services of a computer, add to eliminate the expense of similar equipment at each of the county offices, achieving economy, improved accuracy and controls."

"We are many years behind in this area simply because it was the legal duty of no one to provide such leadership. I accept this challenge and responsibility. We can no longer afford to continue to drift."

Hiring Methods, Costs
"I propose to make the office an equal opportunity employer, employing hiring practice based on experience, ability, desire, etc., and not political clout. To fill job vacancies, to be assured that we are getting the best talent available, and to give everyone an equal opportunity, I shall make known the needs through the news media."

"The cost of voters' permanent registration can and must be reduced. The process of registration can be simplified while at the same time including more positive voter identification as an added ballot safeguard, making manipulation of election returns more difficult."

"I will stop the practice of printing 'furnished through the courtesy of Eulalia Horz, your county clerk' on numerous pamphlets. I will consider it my duty to do this. I shall have imprinted, 'Office of the County Clerk,' and may add, 'Courtesy of the Madison County Taxpayers.'"

Overhaul Fee System
"I propose to completely overhaul the entire county fee system."

"Why should the county pay its own elected officials for services they are supposed to give for their salaries according to law? All fees should be remitted to the county treasurer to be audited and drawn on for office expenses in the same manner as other county revenues."

"I would seek the advice and cooperation of the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs."

"In 1969, to keep 120,445 voters permanently registered—they were already on the books and registered—and to add 250 new ones, the budget was $62,540. Of this amount, $44,240 was budgeted for clerk hire plus $600 for mail clerks."

"If the clerk hire is for new voters only, it comes to over $176 for each new voter per year."

"Figuring the total budget against the total number of registered voters, it costs over 51 cents per year to keep the name of each voter on the books. Waste in present procedures and methods can be eliminated and costs reduced. The result would be less taxes on the taxpayer."

"I would make all public fund records available for inspection to all taxpayers and the news media," Urban concluded.

Automatic Township Elector Meetings End

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has approved in an annual town meeting, held in April of each year, the township elector meetings.

Instead, the law shifts authority for drafting the budgets and levies to the township boards, although the way is left open for electors to call a meeting if they are dissatisfied with any aspects of the budget or levy.

May Request Meeting

The new legislation specifies that budgets and tax levies shall be prepared by the township board and then posted publicly for 30 days. If township residents—the electors—desire any change, they may petition the town board to call an electors' meeting.

Harry Briggs, supervisor of Nameki township and chairman of the legislative committee of the Madison County Board of Supervisors, opposed the bills during the June special session of the General Assembly at Springfield.

The two bills were companion measures to a third law that called for reducing the tax collection fee of township collectors to 1.5% from the present 2% and would have required the collector to distribute excess fees, over and above the cost of salaries and expenses of the collector's office, to all taxing agencies within the township.

Under the existing law, all collector's fees remaining after expenses go solely into the town fund and are used for town purposes.

Political Issue

The proposed new bill also would have allowed the town board to establish the budget for the collector's office. As a result of this requirement, the bill became involved in a political battle in which Democrats charged the law was designed to turn control of several hundred township patronage jobs in Cook county over to suburban Republicans.

Democrats contended that under the new law, a town board could establish a budget for the collector in the full amount of his anticipated fee collection and permit the collector to use all of the tax commissions to provide patronage jobs.

That measure was defeated by one vote in the House, while the two companion bills affecting budget and tax levy status were approved during the special session.

Briggs said he believed the laws doing away with the annual town meeting, which were required under law for adoption of the budget and tax levy, "are the first step in a program to eliminate township government."

Elector's Unconcerned

The supervisor explained the effects of the two bills during a special Nameki township electors' meeting Monday night, in which action was taken on proposed amendments to the highway department budget.

Briggs said he was surprised that the large crowd of electors paid little attention to his announcement.

"The bills take away the last remaining bit of grassroots government," Briggs contended. "The town meeting was the last public gathering allowed by law in which the people themselves voted the money to be spent and levied the taxes to pay the bills," he noted.

The new bills, Briggs said, "make budgeting and tax levy procedure of the township the same as it is among other taxing agencies."

He said some clarification still is needed concerning the question of public hearings on the budget and tax levy. In the past, public hearings were required on all budgets and levies a few days prior to the township elector meetings in which the financial measures were approved.

May Change Distribution

Briggs said the effort to distribute excess fees of town collectors on a pro-rata basis among all tax agencies of the township, which was sought in the third bill that was defeated, may be accomplished in a different way.

He said the Illinois Supreme Court recently ruled unconstitutional the distribution of all excess collectors' fees to the town fund only. The court held, in effect, that the excess fees should be pro-rated among all taxing bodies of the township. As a result, Briggs said, he anticipates court proceedings, possibly by school districts, to enforce this method of fee distribution. He said such suits probably would be brought by the school districts because they receive the major portion of tax receipts.

As a result, Briggs said, he anticipates court proceedings, possibly by school districts, to enforce this method of fee distribution. He said such suits probably would be brought by the school districts because they receive the major portion of tax receipts.

He said the Illinois Supreme Court recently ruled unconstitutional the distribution of all excess collectors' fees to the town fund only. The court held, in effect, that the excess fees should be pro-rated among all taxing bodies of the township. Steel Imports Exceed Million Tons in May

Steel imports racked up their first one-million-ton month of the year during May—with cold rolled sheet and hot rolled sheet leading import products.

A total of 1,065,735 tons of foreign steel—worth $159,412,000—entered the U. S. during the month, according to preliminary figures of the American Iron and Steel Institute. This lifted the five-month steel import figure to 4,364,823 tons valued at $669,350,000.

Cold rolled sheet topped the May import list with a total of 153,100 tons. Close behind was hot rolled sheet, with imports of 153,927 tons. Foreign welded pipe shipments, which led the import list in April, were also strong in May—reaching 130,372 tons.

American specialty and stainless steel producers continued hard pressed by imports. Foreign mills shipped 30,688 tons of alloy steel and 18,415 tons of stainless steel into the U. S. during May. These products—valued at more than $23.7 million—comprised over 14% of the total value of all May steel imports.

Pig iron imports in May climbed to 29,644 tons—up nearly 6200 tons over April.

American steel exports continued strong. They totaled 918,488 tons—worth $121,267,000—in May. This pushed the first-five-months export total to 3,769,280 tons valued at $514,071,000.

MORE ABOUT Clean Air

however, the city first was required to have a complete staff and office facilities, including a full-time technical secretary.

"We couldn't get state approval of the federal loan application without the exemption," Bienecki explained, "and we couldn't get the exemption without a full staff and maximum facilities."

A Sort of 'Catch 22' "We were unable to have the staff and full enforcement facilities without the federal money to pay for it, so it was just one vicious circle," Bienecki pointed out.

The clean air board chairman said he met in Chicago two weeks ago with representatives of the new Environmental Protection Agency and was told to stand by the newly-appointed five-member state pollution board the old federal grant application which had been turned down previously so that it might be reviewed.

"The earlier application will have to be updated, but I intend to get copies to the new board within the next week or so, and then supplement that with an updated application," Bienecki said.

Plan On-Site Inspection

Members of the board agreed to make a personal on-site inspection of pollution problems involved in operation of coke ovens at the Granite City Steel Co. blast furnace department within the next two weeks.

Bienecki suggested that such an inspection would permit board members to move accurately understand reports concerning pollution control measures initiated there in an effort to solve pollution problems.

Prof. Erwin Hoelscher, technical secretary of the Granite City control board, reported that tests of certain "remedial methods" for cutting pollution have been made but failed to solve the problems.

Hoelscher reported that both he and the company are continuing their survey of technological means.

The board approved, to continue until Jan. 1, a variance for open salvage burning for Lipsett Steel Co.

Bienecki pointed out that the variance was in line with the company pollution emission reduction program and that the firm will discontinue all burning after the Jan. 1 deadline.

Union Charges Depot Violates Employees' Pact

The International Union of Operating Engineers Local 149B, which represents about 710 employees at the Granite City Army Depot, has charged Depot officials with violations of certain phases of an Executive Order in procedures pertaining to the proposed shutdown of the Depot.

In a letter to Col. Ned R. Dickson, commanding officer, the union maintained today that to remedy violations, Depot officials must withdraw "any action or notice of such action closing the Granite City Army Depot until opportunity has been given the union to consult, confer and negotiate with your agency as to the closing down of the Depot."

The union also says the Depot officials should "give notice that they will confer and consult with and negotiate with the union on all issues relating to working conditions or employees in our unit prior to taking action or announcing action of changed conditions."

Want Meeting Notices Union officials also requested that they be advised of individual negotiations with employees and given notice and an opportunity to be present at such meetings.

In an accompanying statement, union leaders alleged the officials were in violation of agreements with the union in individual negotiations with employees concerning transfers, changes in job status or other matters of employment without the union being notified or given an opportunity to represent the workers in such negotiations.

The union charged also that Depot officials "have apparently gone to great effort to modify individual employees, the Chamber of Commerce and the public at large about action taken affecting the employment prior to giving any notice to the union."

charges of burglary and theft Tuesday afternoon after seeing a pickup truck containing furniture Monday morning at 10th street and Delmar avenue.

They were Robert Tidwell, 21, of 2715 East 26th street, who was driving the truck and was ticketed for driving without a valid registration, and LeRoy E. Tidwell, 23, same address, and Robert W. Cole, 21, of 2913 Cayuga street.

They were bound over to the Madison county grand jury after waiving a preliminary hearing and were released on recognizance bonds totaling $17,500 each.

The furniture had been taken from a St. Louis firm. The house was closed Saturday afternoon, and entry was gained by breaking a bedroom window.

Madison Break-In

Madison police discovered a break-in at the Douglas Sheet Metal Co., 214 Madison avenue, Madison, early Tuesday morning while answering an alarm at the rear of the Tri-City Pawn Shop, where a burglary was reported in progress.

Officers said two men were seen fleeing from the area near the pawn shop before they arrived. While checking the area, they found a board piled off a sliding door on the south side of the sheet metal company building.

A small box and a cash box in the office had been looted of about $30 in currency. The burglars also took a pair of metal cutting shears. The pawn shop had not been entered.

Venice House Burglary

Five books of trading stamps were among articles taken in a burglary at the home of Rita Harris, 613 Mercedon street, Venice, according to a report made at 11:40 p.m. yesterday.

Entry was gained by tearing the screen off a kitchen window and the intruders left by the

Robert L. Hillard, Granite City district manager of the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co., to Kathy Shemoney of Collinsville, recipient of the $1250-a-year award. Fifty students were awarded college scholarships in nationwide competition sponsored by the American Water Works Foundation and Quad-City area residents are being encouraged to apply for future grants.

rear door. They also took three boys' shirts, a piggy bank, several birthday gifts and a quantity of cereal, beer and wine.

Three concrete blocks were knocked out of the south wall at Updike's service station on Route 162 during the night, it was reported to the Madison county sheriff's office at 8 a.m. Tuesday. Five cartons of cigarettes were stolen.

Venice Boy Arrested

Venice police arrested a 14-year-old boy Tuesday afternoon after he was caught with several items of jewelry stolen in a theft July 7. The boy was picked up after police received information that he had been seen with items stolen from Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lundr, 719 Brown street, when they moved from Madison to Venice.

Mrs. Lumar told police she had hired the boy and two brothers to help her and her husband move to the Brown street address July 7. Later, she discovered that a man's 21-winch watch, two wristwatches, one white gold wedding band, one man's gold wedding band, several pocket knives and other items were missing.

Officers said the boy admitted taking the items. He returned one of the wristwatches and a cigarette lighter, but said he had given other pieces of jewelry to his brothers. The boys' parents told police they will recover the other items and turn them over to authorities.

Restaurant Burglary

Burglars forced open a juke box and two pinball machines but obtained only $2 at the Edge of Town restaurant, Highway 162, Monday night. Also taken were eight or 10 packs of cigarettes. Madison county sheriff's deputies on patrol found a broken window in the building.

The burglars reached through the window to take four quarts, five fifths, three pints and 13 half-pints of liquor, plus a box of candy.

Upturn in GC Steel Sales, Net Income

Granite City Steel Co. had net income for the first six months of 1970 of $2,132,000, or 46 cents per share of common stock, compared with a net loss of $448,000, or 10 cents per share, for the first six months of last year, Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board, said Wednesday following a meeting of the board of directors.

On a pro forma, fully diluted basis, net income for the six months ended June 30, 1970, would be equal to 47 cents per share.

"Although the company is continuing to make progress in recovering from the difficult problems of 1968 and 1969," Veeder said, "profits during the second quarter this year suffered from the broadly disruptive effects of the truck strike and substantial increases in the cost of raw materials."

Granite City Steel's earnings for the three months ended June 30, 1970, were $208,000, or 19 cents per share, compared with $981,000, or 22 cents per share, for the second quarter of 1969.

Sales Figures

Net sales were $81,465,000 for the first half of 1970 compared with $74,416,000 for the first half of 1969, and $44,377,000 for the second quarter of 1970 compared with $41,375,000 for the second quarter last year.

"The steel industry as a whole encountered major problems in the second quarter this year as a result of outside labor disputes—the truck strike and wildcat strikes in the coal mines which led to raw material shortages," Veeder said.

"While most truck drivers, the production and shipping dislocations caused by the truck strike continued for a much longer period."

"The production capacity became severely overloaded during the truck strike and railroads as well as trucks operated at less than normal efficiency after it was over."

"Many of our customers can be supplied only by rail. Thus, production and shipments at Granite City Steel were out of balance during the second quarter, resulting in higher costs."

Coal, Coke Costs Up "The second quarter's results were also affected by substantial increases in our costs for coal and coke, major raw materials in the making of steel."

"As a matter of fact, the cost of practically every raw material we purchased, including scrap, has increased substantially in 1970."

"We shipped 214,000 tons of steel products in the second quarter this year, an increase of 19% over the 179,000 tons shipped in the same period in 1969."

"However, the increase was almost entirely a result of our being able to move a heavy tonnage of semi-finished product out of plant by rail and barge, much of it for export, and these shipments are not as profitable as our normal product mix."

"We produced 393,000 tons of raw steel in the second quarter, or 16 less than the 386,000 tons produced in the second quarter last year."

by the chairman upon presenting sufficient cause. Otherwise, per diem and mileage will be withheld for the meeting.

An argument arose as the per diem of Joseph Watsker of Alton, a political foe of Board Chairman Harold Landolt, was withheld for attendance at the June meeting.

Landolt said Watsker had arrived late and left early three meetings in a row. The board later agreed to pay Watsker's per diem of $29.

Placed on first reading was an ordinance changing building permit and inspection fees for construction in unincorporated areas.

It was explained that the overall fee cost for a five-room house with full basement would be about $50, an increase over the current $26 rate. A comparison of fees with other cities in the county is to be presented before the next meeting.

The board approved the appointment of David Norrborn of Collinsville to a one-year term as trustee of the county tuberculosis clinic and named Rev. A. Ralph Lynn of Alton to the Mental Health Board to succeed Dr. Edwin Buzan of Alton, who resigned.

The board and county were commended by the state director of civil defense training for a recent simulated training exercise conducted here under the direction of Director Ted Tedoroff, whose work was termed "outstanding."

A report of the annual county audit conducted by R. C. Scheffel & Co., certified public accountants, was distributed to members and is to be reviewed at the August meeting.

CWO Bourbon Removed From Critical List

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Bourbon advised the Press-Record today that their son, Chief Warrant Officer David A. Bourbon, has been removed from the critical list and transferred from the Intensive Care Unit at the Charleston, S. C., Naval Base Hospital.

The U. S. Army helicopter pilot, who garnered numerous awards for heroism during a recent Vietnam tour, sustained a severe head injury July 2 when he fell from a moving truck enroute to a flight line at Hunter Air Force Base, Ga. He remained unconscious for five days.

"David is now off the critical list and has been moved to Sick Officers Quarters," Mrs. Bourbon said. "How long he will be hospitalized is not yet known, but he has the best neurosurgeon and we hope his improvement will be steady."

He has received many calls and messages from friends and we are grateful for any kindnesses," the serviceman's mother commented.

Friends may write the Army pilot at CWO David A. Bourbon, Room 3, S.O.Q., U. S. Naval Hospital, Charleston, S. C.

Chemical Definitions Farmers and homeowners use chemical pesticides for a variety of good reasons.

Understanding the place of pesticides in agriculture around the home and knowing how to use them safely starts with knowing the terminology on chemical labels.

The following definitions will help you understand pesticide use and the precautions they demand:

Pesticide: A killer of pests, including weeds, insects, fungi, rodents and other undesirable plants or animals.

Insecticide: A chemical or combination of chemicals used to kill insects.

Fungicide: A chemical used to kill fungi or molds, some of which cause plant diseases.

Herbicide: A chemical used to kill weeds.

Rodenticide: A killer of rodents, including rats, mice and others.

Antidote: A remedy to counteract the effects of poison; treatment for someone who has been poisoned. Those who use poisons according to directions on the label and exercise care, seldom find antidotes necessary.

Avoid Prolonged Contact: Do not allow spray or pesticide materials to remain in contact with the skin, or do not breathe spray or fumes over a long period of time. Sometimes a few hours is too long.

Contaminated: Large amounts, or even traces, of the chemical found where it does not belong and cannot be tolerated. Spray left in too great a volume on food disqualifies the food for sale or use. Clothing can also be contaminated and should not be worn if there are warnings against it.

Emetic: A substance given to cause vomiting to rid the stomach of poison.

Hazardous: Dangerous to the person handling it.

Poison: Can kill insects, animals or humans.

Residue: Chemicals remaining on the crops or in products after application.

Tolerance: The safe amount of a pesticide permitted to remain in or on food for man or animal.

Toxic: It is a poison, can kill insects, animals or man.

Toxic Symptoms: Signs which tell a person has been poisoned. Contact Herbicides: A weed killer which destroys primarily by contact with the plant leaves or stem.

Defoliant: A chemical which causes the leaves to drop from a plant.

Leading Roles Announced for Musical 'Gypsy'

The East Bank Players are rehearsing for their second production Sept. 10, 11 and 12, the long-run Broadway musical, "Gypsy," based on the early life and times of Gypsy Rose Lee.

Naming the leading roles are two Quad-Cityans, Miss Gail Hamilos and Henry Lamb.

Miss Hamilos will be seen as Gypsy's mother, a perfect example of the pushy "stage-mother" type, who gets her child ahead—or else. Her well-known songs include "Every-thing's Coming Up Roses" and "Some People."

Miss Hamilos made her debut before local audiences as one of the singing and dancing girls in the Spring production of "Guys and Dolls." This is her first leading role.

She holds a bachelor degree in music Education and is currently music teacher at Niederrhousen and Frohhardt grade schools. She is doing postgraduate work in music at SIU-SW.

Her local activities include her debut in community theatre, and participation in the Evening Etude Music Society.

"Vampire Actor"

Lamb portrays good hearted "Herbie," Mamma Rose's boy friend and the agent for the children's act, "Baby June and Her Newsboys." This is a quite different role from his debut in community theatre, he was last seen as "Harry the Horse," race horse devotee and dice shooter, in "Guys and Dolls."

Lamb is employed by Metzler and Drinkhouse, consulting engineers, St. Louis. He is a member of the board of directors of Paddlers, Inc., and serves as Boy Scout institutional representative and publicity chairman for the YMCA swimming team.

While a student at the Rolla, Mo., School of Mines he sang in choral groups and the Rolla club. Recently has appeared with East Bank Players in their entertainment presentation before civic and professional groups.

With Miss Hamilos, he will sing such popular songs from "Gypsy" as "Small World," "You'll Never Get Away from Me" and "Together, Wherever, We Go."

Family in Cast
Making a family affair of community theatre, his wife, Ruth, and children, Jeff and Dawn, will join him in this production.

"Gypsy" will be presented at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Granite City in modified "arena" staging, permitting close proximity to the cast, and beverage and snack service during intermissions.

The production is directed and choreographed by Mrs. William F. Holescher, and the musical accompaniment and vocal direction are by Ken Mason. Assistant director is Ray Peradotti, and assistant choreographer is Anita Gasparovic.

There are still a few small parts remaining for college or high school age boys, and one older man's role. Anyone interested should attend rehearsals on Monday and Wednesday evenings at the VFW.

Depot Auctions 310 Items for $177,847

All but one of 311 items offered for sale at the Granite City Army Depot auction yesterday sold for a total of $177,847, or about 85% of their total value of $2,018,723.

The sale, arranged to clear out surplus items in advance of the depot's inactivation in July next year, involved a wide range of articles from cranes to diesel engines, trailers of all kinds and water purification units.

Sixty-nine of the 450 registered bidders were successful in their bids for items put on the block during the three-hour sale. Most expensive item was a truck-mounted crane that sold for $4500. Selling at the lowest price were several concrete mixer heaters which went for $3 each.

One of these heaters was the only item that did not sell. No one would bid more than $25 for it and since that was $10 less than the other heaters sold for, Depot officials decided to keep it.

Venice Man Faces Marijuana Charge

Charles Matthews, 41, of 307 Weaver street, Venice, was arrested by Venice police Monday afternoon after authorities found a patch of marijuana growing on the side of Matthews' house.

Authorities alleged that they found evidence the plants had been cultivated. Matthews was charged with unlawful possession of a narcotic drug and was released on a recognizance bond pending a magistrate hearing.

Police said they acted on information that plants were being raised in Matthews' back yard when they went to the house to investigate. Assistant Chief of Police Ralph D. Brawley said the marijuana plants appeared to have been freshly watered.

Matthews was accompanied by William May of the narcotics division of the Illinois Bureau of Investigation in making the investigation and the arrest. After finding the plants, police filed a complaint, secured a warrant from the state's attorney and arrested Matthews.

The project, funded by Title VI of the Elementary Secondary Education Act, is being conducted here for 21 students from cities throughout Illinois, none from the Quad-Cities. The project is coordinated statewide by the United Cerebral Palsy office.

EOC-Shell Oil Start Job Training Program

The first cooperative job training program, to be conducted jointly by Shell Oil Co. and the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, was announced this week by Mrs. Barbara Shaw, coordinator of youth programs for the county anti-poverty agency.

A contract has been signed with the oil firm to provide training for area youths, between the ages of 16 and 25, in such fields as auto mechanics, service station operations and management. Mrs. Shaw said.

The initial group of 12 young men will begin the training program Monday at a facility rented by Shell on State street in Alton.

On-the-job instruction will be offered the trainees at a nearby service station in conjunction with formal courses. Training will last about three months after which a new group will be assigned to the center.

Young men from the Quad-City area interested in taking part in future courses may contact officials at the Neighborhood EOC Center, 145 Madison avenue, Madison, or call EOC headquarters in Edwardsville at 1-456-8240.

Referrals to the program can be made by local youth agencies, the Illinois Employment Service and probation officers. Counseling is available to the youths and assistance is provided in job placement after training is completed.

Truck Backs into Auto

A pickup truck driven by Norvell White, 1129 Reynolds street, Madison, backed against the rear of the auto of George Siler, 3128 Rodger avenue, parked on the left at the National Lead Co. at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday.

At last count there had 300 horses and between 75 and 100 cowboys entered in the parade. The Jaycee president said today.

"In addition, Quad-Cityans can expect a preview glimpse of several entertainers who will perform at the rodeo, such as Ron Degonia, a professional rodeo clown, bull-baiter and co-chairman of the local rodeo spectacular, the colorful Rowe Family and Barbara Fairchild, a country-western recording star," he pointed out.

Local organizations scheduled to take part in the parade include the Ainal Compacts of Ainal Shrine Temple; Granite City Local Order of Moose; Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 1300; Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce; Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City; Granite City Business and Professional Women's club; Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary; the School of Baton; Granite City Jaycees and Jaycettes and the Belleville Jaycees.

Aside from the well-groomed mounts will be members of the Trailriders Saddle club, plus other area riding groups, Part.

Mayors Donald Partney of Granite City, Raymond Knobel of Madison and Dr. John E. Lee of Venice will be among several distinguished guest participants in the parade.

Tickets for Saturday and Sunday's performances are available in advance from local banks, the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and from area Jaycee groups.

Price is $1.75 for one adult or two children. Tickets also may be purchased at the arena gate immediately before showtime on the two days, Partney said.

Top ranking riders from the U.S. and Canada will compete of $2000 in prize money in five events—barrel racing, bronco riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, steer wrestling and calf roping.

Winners will receive points toward this year's world championship rodeo titles, Gary Davis, Jaycee project chairman explained. Livestock for the event is being provided by the H-Bar-C Ranch of Salem, Ia.

Among the entertainers will be blonde, country-western song stylist, Barbara Fairchild, whose recent recording for Columbia Records, "Find Out What's Happening," is climbing fast on the charts. Her first LP album—"Someone Special"—is scheduled for release this month.

Currently appearing at Bowi Haven Lounge in Wood River, the petite, voluble songstress resides in St. Louis with her husband, Mike Hanes, a well-known disc jockey. She will perform at both rodeo shows, Partney said, singing excerpts from her new album and pop recording as part of the act.

Proceeds from the Jaycee rodeo will be used to further several youth projects in the community, Partney said.

The local young men's club sponsors Christmas shopping tours for underprivileged children, purchases cribs and cribs covers for St. Elizabeth Hospital's pediatric ward, and distributes toward school lunches for needy youngsters and sponsors phone calls to servicemen in Vietnam from their families at home, the Jaycee officer explained.

Parade to Open Rodeo Events This Weekend

Everybody loves a parade—young, old, rich or poor—and the Granite City Jaycees' kick-off parade to herald the start of weekend activities at the "World Championship Rodeo" here will prove even more exciting than organizers promise.

Featuring nearly 300 horses, "real live" cowboys, western entertainers and a cavalcade of vehicles carrying 24 h-h-m-bulls, saddle bronc and other livestock, the motorized segments will form at 2 p.m. Saturday at Fourth street and Broadway in Venice, according to David Partney, GC Jaycee president and parade marshal.

Leading the parade on horseback will be vivacious Ruth Ann and the dancing Misses Granite City. Colorful floats and other motorized units will proceed along Broadway to Madison avenue and north on Madison to 18th street.

Marching units will join the parade at 18th street, with the parade then continuing north along Madison to Nameoki Village shopping center.

Most of the vehicles will continue traveling to the Tri-City Speedway, near Mitchell, site of the two-day Jaycee Rodeo. Partney said, noting, however, that all marching units will dismount at the parade grounds.

The two-state metropolitan area's first "World Championship Rodeo," sanctioned by the International Rodeo Association, will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday, at the two-day Jaycee Rodeo, 5100 Nameoki road.

Area groups still may participate in Saturday's rodeo parade, Partney said.

Interested persons may contact the parade marshal, prior to 8 p.m. Friday, at 876-3432 or 877-8429.

"At last count there had 300 horses and between 75 and 100 cowboys entered in the parade," the Jaycee president said today.

"In addition, Quad-Cityans can expect a preview glimpse of several entertainers who will perform at the rodeo, such as Ron Degonia, a professional rodeo clown, bull-baiter and co-chairman of the local rodeo spectacular, the colorful Rowe Family and Barbara Fairchild, a country-western recording star," he pointed out.

Over 16,000 Hear 'Chicago'

More than 16,000 young people discarded cares of the day here as a rock-music group named "Chicago" at the SIU-SW Mississippi River Festival last night, setting an all-time attendance record.

The official count showed that 15,878 had entered the large natural amphitheater before intermission, and officials estimate that after intermission the crowd may have swelled to about 18,500.

The younger generation knows the musicians as the "CRA," an economically suffering organization and the name of the rock groups initial big selling song, "Chicago Transit Authority."

Enthusiastic approval of the program was shown by the big audience.

Fisherman Drowns Near Low Water Dam

J. C. Hampton, 35, of 1329 Temple place, St. Louis, was a drowning victim at the low water dam of the Mississippi River Monday evening. It was reported by Madison county authorities.

He had been fishing with a fellow employee of a St. Louis nursing home, Ned Jacob of St. Louis, who told sheriff's deputies that at about 6:30 p.m. Hampton had caught a sizeable fish but was unable to get it to shore.

The victim took a dip net, asked Jacob to hold the line, and started wading toward the fish, according to the company who said he had warned Hampton against going into the river.

Hampton replied that he knew how to swim, Jacob said. But after he was about 40 feet out under, surfaced, went under again and disappeared.

Alton and Wood River rescue squads were called to drag the river bottom and three divers from a Florissant Mo., underwater recovery team arrived to assist. Alton and Wood River were Robert Thomas, who said the group worked until 1:30 a.m. and then returned during the day.

Mr. Hampton's body was recovered by the searchers about 8 p.m. Tuesday near the Chain of Rocks Bridge.

4 Autos, Truck, Tavern Window Hit by Bullets

Four autos and a truck were pierced with bullet holes and a window in the front of Big Ben's tavern, 210 N. Kansas street, was damaged in a shooting outside the tavern early Tuesday.

Police said a bullet of .22 or .25 caliber which was fired through the tavern window was dug out of a wall. No one was injured.

Officers were called to the tavern by Jen Huey, operator, who told them the incident occurred at 3:15 a.m. just after he had turned off the outside tavern lights. She told police she was walking toward the front of the tavern when she heard the sound of glass breaking and then saw the bullet hole in the front window.

Officer Edward Goclan and William Papa reported that the investigation revealed no damage to the parked vehicles. The proprietor told them she heard a black car go by the tavern at the same time she heard the sound of breaking glass.

Will Seek Aid of Citizens to Meet Problems--Sasyk

A move to "give the city government back to the people of Madison" and a plan to work out community problems by appointing committees of citizens to work with city officials was pledged yesterday by Mike Sasyk, candidate for mayor of Madison in the special July 28 election.

In a campaign platform announced during the present sharp pickup in election activities, Sasyk said also that if elected in the July 28 balloting he will be a full-time working mayor in an effort to meet a number of pressing needs in the city of Madison.

Foremost among programs he will initiate if elected is a merit system for all city employees and a new liquor control ordinance limiting number of taverns and revising the present 4 a.m. tavern closing hour, Sasyk said.

Other projects which Sasyk said he will carry out if elected may include study and upgrading of all city departments to assure most efficient and economic operation. He would promote and develop the business community; update and modernize recreation programs for youth and senior citizens; demolish old buildings and beautify the city; and dispose of the city-owned Chain of Rocks Bridge.

Proposes School Program

Sasyk said he also would initiate a program to establish a better working relationship between the police and school authorities in solving juvenile problems and in protecting school children going to and from school and while attending school.

With less than two weeks remaining before the special mayoralty election, campaign activities have increased within the past week. Four candidates are bidding for the mayor's office.

In Addition to Sasyk, 1923 Fifth Street, Those Seeking Election to the Mayor's Office, Which Was Vacated When the Late Stephen Maerz Died Last February, Include Ray Kozielek, Now Acting Mayor of the City; Mrs. F. A. Lewis, 664 Fourth Street; and John H. Moore, 616 West Third Street. Kozielek Lives at 7703 Sixth Street.

MRS. SYLVIA MITCHELL

SIU-SW Nursing Graduate Will Teach, Study

"Education is like a fever," says Sylvia Mitchell of Centerville, a June nursing graduate of SIU-SW. "The more I get, the more I find how little I really know and the more I want to learn." This fall, she will teach and take graduate courses at the SIU-SW campus.

"I thought I had the world by the tail when I received my LPN (licensed practical nurse) in 1954," the soft-spoken Mrs. Mitchell says. "I became a nurse's aide after graduating from Collinsville high school in 1952 because jobs were hard to find. Hospital work was so satisfying, earning an LPN seemed next best to going to college."

After receiving her LPN from District 189 in East St. Louis, she worked for several years at Christian Welfare Hospital. "I first discovered how little I knew when I began teaching practical nursing in District 189. Also, as an LPN, I had been in charge of a floor and I knew when I began teaching practical nursing in District 189. Also, as an LPN, I had been in charge of a floor and I knew when I began teaching practical nursing in District 189."

Experience at Centerville, Mo., where she became an instructor for the board of education of the School of Practical Nursing and in the fall of 1969 entered SIU-SW. She was on the Dean's list for the winter and spring semesters of this year.

"I owe many people many things," the modest Mrs. Mitchell says. "I couldn't have gone to night classes without my mother. Who else but a mother would have managed my house and taken care of my children? Lending my mother to me has been my father's contribution. My husband's interest and encouragement have been a big help."

"I guess you would call Dean McClelland my ideal," the nursing enthusiast says. Lucille McClelland is dean of SIU's Nursing Division. "Dean McClelland was an RN and one of my teachers when I was working for my LPN. Her help and attitude hasn't changed a bit since she went on to earn three college degrees and become a university dean."

"Prof. McClelland is the one who encouraged me to get my bachelor's degree. I didn't realize how near I was to attaining one. While I don't aspire to becoming a dean, I just want to teach--she gives me something to look forward to."

Wilkins, Ottwein on School Aid Committee

Dr. George T. Wilkins of Granite City and Senator Merrill Ottwein of Edwardsville, have been named to a special sub-committee of the Illinois School Problems Commission that is charged with the responsibility of a special study of the formula for distribution of state school funds in Illinois.

Rep. Charles W. Clabough (R, Champaign), in announcing the appointments, said the sub-committee has only a short period of time in which to come up with major changes in the distribution formula. The formula has come under attack in recent years and has been unchanged for a long period of time, except for dollar amounts.

The new formula is to be ready for the next legislative session. Both local appointees are members of the School Problems Commission.

Dr. Wilkins was formerly the Illinois superintendent of public instruction and is on the faculty of education at SIU-SW. Sen. Ottwein is a member of the Senate Education Committee and of the Urban Education Commission.

Other members of the special subcommittee are Sen. Esther Superstein, Sen. Jack Kneaford, Rep. Gene Hoffman, Rep. Donald A. Henss, Rep. Arthur Berman and public members, John A. Koenig, A. R. Evans and Dr. Brant Crocker in addition to Dr. Wilkins.

Governor Names Head Of Welfare Institute

A director and three assistants who will head the new Illinois Institute for Social Policy, which will develop and test new methods of providing jobs, medical care and financial assistance to the poor, were appointed Monday by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The governor named Leroy S. Wehrle, a former diplomat and federal government economist, as executive director of the new agency. The new institute will work across existing state agency lines and conduct comprehensive research into the problems confronting the state's social service programs.

The institute is to be funded by a $3.3 million appropriation to the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

In making the appointments, Ogilvie said, "Our public welfare system is an abject failure. Existing welfare programs have done little to ease the burden of the poor, and they have multiplied the burden on our taxpayers."

"Through this institute, the state is establishing a capability to examine the frightful problems of poverty and hopelessness on a broad and professional base."

'Aquilae' Battle 'Boves' At Lat in Conference

"Aquilae" have been competing against "boves" at the University of Illinois campus this summer.

They are Latin words for "eagles" and "bulls," the names of teams selected by 37 Illinois high school students attending a Latin conference sponsored by the U. of I. classics department and division of university extension.

All the students at the conference have completed at least two years of high school Latin. Among those attending were Brian Greathouse, 34 Riviera drive, and Donna L. Williamson, 332 Colgate place.

Richard T. Scanlon, professor in the departments of classics and secondary education, supervised planning of the conference. He and nine members of

58'ers 4-H Club Holds Achievement Program

Janice Mueller, president of the 58'ers 4-H Club, welcomed the members and guests to the groups' local achievement program last week at St. John United Church of Christ on Namecki road.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Cheryl Gertsch, and Nancy Hamilton led the 4-H Pledge. Each 4-H member then introduced herself and her mother. Mrs. Mabel Gertsch, 4-H chairman of the Trio unit of Madison County Home Extension Association, which is the sponsor of the 58'ers, presented corsages to the club leaders, Mrs. Harriet Bunselmeyer and Mrs. Eva Mueller.

The girls then sang, "I've Got the 4-H Spirit."

Mariann Yevin demonstrated her prize winning dish, "holubski," which she will prepare and exhibit at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield next month.

Girls modeling garments they made during the past year for the evening's "Dress Review" were Nancy Bergfield, Martha Mueller, Mary Mueller, Jo Ann Kamblich, Brenda Wadlow, Patty Bade, Janet Bunselmeyer, Cheryl Gertsch, Nancy Hamilton, Janice Mueller and Donna Schillinger.

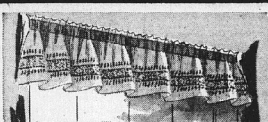

The refreshment table was decorated in a green and white 4-H theme, with a white cloth, green candles and a crystal punch bowl. Members of the refreshment committee were Nancy Hamilton, Patty Bade and Jo Ann Kamblich. They were assisted by their mothers, Mrs. Angela Hamilton, Mrs. Ralph Bade, and Mrs. Pauline Kamblich.

Members who will exhibit and participate in the Madison County Fair are Mary Kay Becherer, Anne DeRuntz and Jeanie Schwarzkopf, all on July 21; and Anne Marie Uram on July 22, and Mary Beth Vesci on July 24.

Mothers who accompanied the 4-H Club leaders, Mrs. Eleanor Kozal and Mrs. Carol Davis to the activities last week were Mesdames R. Uram, R. Becherer, F. Schwarzkopf, DeRuntz, R. Hintz, D. Schmidt, Friederich, and Bequette.

Inherited Traits Affect Society More Than Does the Environment

My HOUSTON WRITING
Littles, Colo., Independent

When I left journalism school and became a weekly editor 43 years ago, I had the confidence of youth. All that was needed to complete my education was to learn how to communicate and to discover the Nature of Man.

In vain, I sat at the feet of psychologists and semioticians, trying to find the secret of getting an idea undistorted from one man's head into that of another. I still sit, open-mouthed, waiting.

To discover the Nature of Man, I approached the great philosophers, both dead and living. They led me down a path through a beautiful wood, but it was the wrong path.

Two years ago, thanks to a few books by zoologists and anthropologists, I got a daily glimpse of the Nature of Man. Like the reformed drunkard, I stand on my head, but it is dark trying to bring my fellows to "the truth."

The "truth" is the new substance of zoology and anthropology. It is animal behavior. It goes by the name "ethology," a word that perhaps is not yet in your dictionary.

In point of fact, I hold my new truth tentatively. All I have ever felt certain about is that Human Nature, the awesome phenomenon that has occurred on this planet—Man.

To understand Man, the ethologists write, you must believe in evolution.

William Jennings Bryan did believe in evolution. Clarence Darrow did. We observed this in 1926 when John T. Scopes, a Tennessee school teacher, defied state law and taught that man evolved from a lower animal.

It is still illegal to teach evolution in one or two states, but most schools are permitted to discuss the ancestry of their pupils.

I sided with Clarence Darrow in 1925 and so I am prepared for the books on the Nature of Man as they came on the market in recent years.

The best, I suppose, is that of Konrad Lorenz whose volume, "On Aggression," which I have converted to a lawyer's wife put in my hand one night after a social evening.

The volume appeared in German three years before it was translated into English. Once available, it was the American anthropologists and sociologists, it bowled them over. The same thing had happened when Lord Keynes presented his new theory of economics four decades ago. Men don't read it, but they have a vested interest.

What Lorenz seemed to be saying was that fish, birds and other creatures are driven by four things: hunger, sex, fear and aggression. For each species to survive, it needed these things.

But why aggression? As I understand the theory, aggression was necessary to spread creatures around.

There is only so much living space and food in one spot, and the strong are forced to get that territory and bear their young. This sort of guarantee of survival will still survive.

Well, other ethologists bought typewriters and began to tell their experiments. These included Niko Tinbergen, Desmond Morris, Robert Ardrey and an anthropologist at Rutgers, Dr. Lionel Tiger.

One author added a fifth instinct to Lorenz's list. That is "concern for the young," at least among the higher animals.

Another suggested that most living things want identity, stimulus and security. The identity often means territory; even the salmon returns to its spot in the river with its remembered arrangement of pebbles.

The stimulus frequently means living close to one another, as in the case of quarrel with neighbors—a custom found among Italians as well as among gulls, howling monkeys and hundreds of other species.

From the ethologists I have been shocked to learn that the equality of people, popularized by Thomas Jefferson and the French Revolution, is contrary to nature.

Other animals, like us, require an organized society. The animals don't conceal the fact that they operate with a hierarchy—ranking status and a pecking order.

I think it was Dr. Lorenz who studied a colony of birds common in Western Europe. The male birds secured their territories and the females followed without understanding the reasons.

Many unattractive females were left over, shoved off to a life of spinsterhood. Inasmuch as females derive their status from the position of the males

In the hierarchy, the unattached females had no status. They were at the bottom of the pecking order. One of these was a male bird.

The ethologist observed that one dashing male mysteriously disappeared before the jackdaw hierarchy was formed. When he returned to the flock, the hierarchy was established.

The wanderer attempted to be No. 1, a rank he achieved in a few days. But he did not get No. 1's mate, for jackdaws are monogamous.

Neither did he get the wife of No. 2, or No. 96. He had to look among the spinster and spits it was that Gretchen became the mate of the new leader.

She immediately gained his favor and that has been a daily pecked all those other jackdaws who had previously pecked her. The jackdaw story, and others like this, makes me think that human society tells the female take the rank of the male.

I have noticed this in communities of retired military officers, now wearing civilian clothes. The former general's wife pecks the colonel's lady, and the colonel's lady pulls more rank on the major's spouse. This is even more true in the corporate hierarchy.

Among these is the wolf, a creature that has been maligning by homo sapiens. Instead of referring to a promiscuous man as a wolf, we call him a dog—a cousin that is truly wayward.

Some writers today suggest that marriage will pass out of fashion shortly. They will be the rearing of children.

Tomorrow, they say, we shall be living freely in communities. The results of a baby results it will be brought up by a state nursery.

I am led to believe that we won't be able to deny our heritage—the bonding of human males, females and the need for family life with children.

Bonding, according to Dr. Tiger, also exists among males. Because they needed to work together on the hunt for millions of years, they had to bring results in their joints in the military, and in business.

Dr. Tiger declares, do not have this ability. Even though women outnumber men in America, they have not bonded together to operate society.

This may not be a matter of bonding, but of dominance, trait awarded by most mammals to the male.

I have questioned scientists about the possibility of changing human beings by altering their genes. They say they see no possibility at present of inventing a specific gene without upsetting the balance of the particular chromosome.

It appears that we shall have to operate within the framework of our inheritance which began with mammals 70 million years ago.

About 20 million years ago, man's ancestors parted from the ancestors of other primates. Neanderthal man, 100,000 years ago, Dr. Louis Leakey proved in Africa, Man began making tools and controlling his environment.

But he was unable to use fire until a half-million years ago. He settled down with the aid of agriculture only in 8000 B. C.

I am just an amateur conclusion to draw some conclusions from scientists who study animal behavior; that is, scientists observe fish, birds and animals in their native habitat insofar as possible.

Knowing something about that need for being aggressive and for dominance, I see how America has rationally conquered the American Indian, Mexico, Spain, Korea and Vietnam.

It is also more apparent why Vietnamese won't drop dead, for the desire to defend one's home territory doubles the strength of an elite, a robin, a baboon, or a man.

Too many social scientists and psychologists have concentrated on the environment of man as the controlling factor in society.

They have neglected the strength of the genes we are to keep the Human Nature going. Within two years, journalism schools will begin teaching their young men and women to study ethology as well as economics, government, history and psychology.

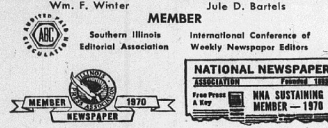

Editorial writers will be unable to point new directions without understanding the Nature of Man, especially his inherited handicaps.

Census Spotlights Boundary Problem, Real Need for the Pending Local Housing Plans

Madison county's preliminary census shows a population of 246,126, up 10% from 224,689 here in 1960, while the city of Granite City is listed as decreasing 9%, from 40,073 to 36,086.

This contrast, if borne out by the final figures this fall, is partly but not fully accounted for by two trends—the shift of residents to suburbs and unincorporated areas, and the decreasing family size within the average residence.

It is not certain that the aggregate Quad-City area municipal population is down. Madison and Venice have yet to be heard from, and the Pontoon Beach count will be a net increase for the corporate area.

The village did not exist ten years ago. However, the census does focus attention on a continuing problem, the comparative difficulty which has beset the city of expanding boundary lines and governmental services.

Harbingers of future growth are numerous. Venice and Madison are developing ambitious housing rehabilitation and renewal programs, and the Granite City Housing Authority has plans for downtown area apartments for the elderly. Subdivisions continue to be built on the fringe of existing city limits, and this seems sure to accelerate once the mortgage and construction squeeze eases.

In the meantime, anyone not counted by the census staff could help local municipalities maintain an adequate share of state gasoline and income tax revenue by informing city officials that they were missed.

Public Responding Well to River Festival, Approval for a Third Year Should Be Easy

Southern Illinois University trustees were not caught by surprise when they approved the Mississippi River Festival for a second summer. They did act favorably, and the current season is off to such a good start that the question of a third year in 1971 already presents an obvious answer, heartily in the affirmative.

The first nine of the 30 concerts in 1970 have attracted 31,564 people, an increase of 18,059 or 130%.

Increased public support is apparent in all facets of the festival's musical programs. The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra has attracted 17,864 persons to six concerts, compared to 5,928 a year ago. The first three popular, rock and folk concerts have drawn 13,700, compared to 7,559 at a similar time last year.

Better weather undoubtedly is a factor, along with the scheduling of well-accepted Sunday pops concerts by the nearly 700-member orchestra. But we think the main reason is growing awareness of the River Festival, its consistent quality and the high-caliber way in which the whole undertaking is being planned and carried out.

The public usually can be counted on to recognize outstanding entertainment offerings, and the crowds of 2000 to 9000 are eloquent evidence that the Mississippi River Festival at SIU-SW has earned this kind of recognition.

Thoughts of Atom- and Baseball-Smashing

Sophisticated systems and skills are utilized in a variety of scientific, academic and athletic pursuits. But when the chips are down, a bit of direct, unadorned action sometimes is needed to get a job done.

We recall the late Dr. Arthur Holly Compton describing the first splitting of an atom in 1945 at Chicago's University of Chicago. The reaction could be controlled, rather than setting off a sequence which might destroy the world, but nobody was absolutely sure. So, along with a lot of expensive development, a nuclear war with an axe to cut a rope in the event the fission process had to be stopped.

In the baseball all-star game won by the National League 5-1 Tuesday night, dazzling pitching, fielding and batting artistry was displayed. But the game was not decided until the last half of the 12th inning, when base runner Ron Cey hit a home run, trying to score from second base on a single to centerfield, leaped head-first toward the plate, bowling over the American League catcher.

Supreme Court Nominees Have Fine Records

May the best man win.

It is always pleasing when two highly competent people are nominated for an elective office, because regardless of the outcome the public is assured of having an effective official. Just such a development has occurred in the Fifth Appellate District, where Democrat Joseph Goldenbergh of Centerville and Republican Harold R. Clark of Alton have been nominated for a ten-year term on the seven-member Illinois Supreme Court.

The Nov. 3 election will be a spirited one, but voters fortunately cannot go wrong. Both Appellate Judge Goldenbergh and Circuit Judge Clark have fine judicial records which justify consideration for advancement to the top state court.

Reckless drivers are seldom wreckless for long.

Non-Graduated Income Tax Plan; End to Personal Property Tax by 1979

(Taxpayers Federation of Illinois)

After a week of debate and amendments, often heated and long, the Constitutional Assembly, in any law imposing tax on or measured by income, may define the amount upon which such taxes are assessed, either by measuring, varying, the major; proposals stand as follows:

(1) Any provision of the United States, as such laws may be or become effective at any time or from time to time.

(2) Any person finally ascertained as subject to taxation by the United States. This Section shall apply to the tax on income to individuals income shall not exceed 5% unless such excess rate applies to the majority of the people voting in a referendum or by a vote of 3/5.

Real Estate—Permits counties to classify or to continue to classify real property by valuation for taxation purposes, subject to such limitations as the General Assembly may hereafter prescribe by law.

Real property used in agriculture shall be assessed at the same level as single-family residential real property.

Personal Property—Prohibits personal property tax on business and industry effective Jan. 1, 1979, and endorses the Nov. 3, 1979, referendum which, if approved, will abolish such tax on individuals.

Non-property Taxes—The General Assembly may classify the subjects and objects of non-property taxes and fees, provided that the classes are reasonable and that the subjects and objects within each class are taxed uniformly.

The General Assembly may provide for the assessment of deductions, credits for taxes paid, refunds and other allowances.

Delegates will have another opportunity to amend key issues on second and third readings.

It appears that further changes will depend upon the outcome of "home rule" taxing provisions of local governments.

'Policeman's Lot Not a Happy One'

(Kent Messenger, England)

We should not be surprised that crime is on the increase, for it is often our fault.

We should not be surprised that these criminals are caught, for it is often our fault. And if the police went on strike it would most certainly be our fault as we continue to pile straws on the camel's back.

Our love-hate relationship with authority has the policeman, and his wife and family, hard. We make the laws, but we expect our own shortcomings to be overlooked. We feel ill at ease with a policeman and often he and his family feel isolated from the community.

We fail to take elementary crime prevention precautions, make life easy for the criminal and do not respect the policeman's workload.

We expect to see the criminal caught yet are unwilling to report suspicious circumstances or come forward as witnesses.

We expect the police to be civil yet abuse them when they are caught out breaking the law. We demand to be protected from violence yet allow laws to be passed which remove protection from the police.

Nothing will stop some men from pulling a trigger, but the police solution is in our hands.

Jupiter a Planetary Laboratory

(American Association for the Advancement of Science)

The planet Jupiter is composed primarily of hydrogen and helium and is thus very much like a star in its chemical composition. In particular, it is very similar to our special star, the sun.

Dr. Tobias Owen, of the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago, says this giant planet in its present state of development is a type of laboratory, fossil retaining the relative abundance of chemical elements in its makeup that existed in the primordial nebula from which our solar system was formed.

This possibility has interested beyond its cosmological significance from the standpoint of theories of the origin and evolution of life.

It is commonly agreed, writes Dr. Owen, that life originated on the earth under conditions very different than those we know today. The primitive atmosphere of the earth may have been composed mainly of methane and ammonia—gases which are known to exist on Jupiter.

Experiments in which electrical sparks are sent through mixtures of methane, ammonia and water vapor (and it is now virtually certain that there is water on Jupiter) have led to the formation of complex organic compounds that are comparable to essential precursors to the development of life.

Jupiter, says Dr. Owen, may be offering science a giant natural laboratory in which these prebiological organic chemistry experiments are spontaneously going on, again and again.

Gifts to Newlyweds Not Taxable

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q) If I give my daughter money instead of the furniture I'd been planning to buy as her wedding gift, will she have to pay tax on it?

A) No, a gift is not taxable to the recipient.

However, if a gift is over $3000, the donor has to file a gift tax return and may have to pay a gift tax.

Gifts of cash or other property are subject to the same general rules.

Q) Several companies paid my way to their plants in connection with some job interviews. Will I have to pay all of these trips-tax-free or just the one for the job I finally took?

A) Payment or reimbursement for travel expenses on a job interview is not taxable. This applies whether or not the interview leads to employment.

Any reimbursement for expenses that exceeds your cost should be declared as income, however.

50 YEARS AGO

JULY 16, 1920

Seven of the eight contract jobs on Madison county roads are proceeding, with the result that a great amount of work is becoming noticeable. Several weeks ago, the road improvements were almost at a standstill due to the shortage of materials. The roads should be well on to completion within the next six months.

Albert Fahrig, who has constructed 4000 feet of road and has about two miles to build, has been changing some of his equipment for completion of the road toward Mitchell.

The East Side Levee & Sanitary District board opened bids for construction of an intercepting canal at the base of the bluffs. Estimated cost is $3 million.

25 YEARS AGO

JULY 16, 1945

Illinois selective service boards have forwarded a number of registrants for re-induction. This number, however, is only a fraction of the total number released from the armed forces.

The Elks ladies' club served supper to 60 servicemen and families at the USO center in the YMCA. Mrs. Ray Barr was in charge of the program, which consisted of several vocal solos by Miss Rosemary Dron, accompanied at the piano by Jean Long. Several piano selections were played by Tommy Werner.

Arthur White, William Kinder and Charles Werner and son, Jerry, made a trip to the fishing trip and visit to Piquette, Cape Girardeau and Dexter, Mo.

A new Illinois airport bill, sponsored by the Madison-St. Clair County Airport Commission, which Robert Dron is a member, was signed into law by Gov. Dwight Green. This paves the way for development of a long-considered airport at Horseshoe Lake.

Dr. A. Ralph Lynn, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Granite City, realized the "golfer's dream" by making a hole-in-one on the 165-yard second hole at the Madison County Country Club. He was playing with B. G. Moody, Dave Kendall and Dale Mullen. The prize is customarily a case of beer, but Dr. Lynn did not know what to do with it.

GRANITE CITY RESIDENT
HOLIDAY FLAG FLYING
BY GC GROUPS IS URGED

A really impressive and patriotic sight to see is the many American flags lining Broadway in Venice and the city of Madison as you travel down this main thoroughfare toward Grand Avenue. You see very few American flags.

This 4th of July, they were flying for a great day in our history. The flags in Venice and Madison were bought by the respective cities, and are placed on the main thoroughfares for days that are flying for the city.

They are placed into position and taken down by the city employees.

Could it be that he realizes a debate will make or break the election and he hasn't the courage to risk it?

Anyone professing to have a high I.Q. should be able to handle questions presented to him by the citizens of the community in a public setting.

In this manner, the citizens of Madison would have an opportunity to judge for themselves to which candidate is best qualified to handle the job of running our city without basing their convictions on all the promises of gossip, threats to have their taxes raised, and threats of losing their jobs.

As for being knowledgeable of our children's needs, Mayor Kozielle probably has more knowledge of what is going on in our schools and what should be done for the children's benefit than any of the candidates.

8 From GC to Compete In State Sports Meet

Granite City youngsters competing this week in the Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree sectional meet at Alton placed in 39 of 38 events and captured eight first-place victories and nine second-place finishes. All results are unofficial until final statistics are authenticated by regional Jaycee officials.

The state Jamboree will be co-sponsored by the Illinois Youth Commission and Illinois Jaycees, with the Pekin Jaycees organization serving as host group.

Stan Brown, chairman of the local Jamboree event, headed the contingent of young men escorting the Granite City contestants to the Alton sectionals. Twelve youthful athletes from here gained third-place ribbons, ten received fourth-place, five fifth-place and one a sixth-place ribbon. 'Seven' Play Tonight At Wilson Park Rink

"The Seven," a group of youthful area musicians, will perform at 8 p.m. today in the fifth of a series of summer dances, sponsored by the Granite City park district, at the Wilson Park rink pavilion.

Park Supt. Harold Brown announced this week.

Weekly dances for local teenagers are conducted from 8 to 11 p.m. on Thursdays.

Local residents displaying identification cards, obtained through the park district, may attend the dance sessions for a $1 fee. Non-residents and persons without ID cards are charged $1.25, Brown said.

Juli Domitrovich Wins Hula Hoop Title for Second Year

For the second consecutive year, Juli Domitrovich, 3702 Kirkpatrick Homes, earned the title of All-City Hula Hoop Champion in the second annual Hula Hoop twirling contest staged at the Wilson Park rink pavilion.

The 11-year-old girl will compete in the Illinois state championship event, to be hosted by the Granite City park district on Saturday, Aug. 1, at the Wilson Park pavilion. It will be the first time a statewide hula hoop meet has been conducted in the south-central Illinois area.

Representing Marshall school, the successful youngster was one of 20 semi-finalists competing in the local contest, which matched competitors from 11 playground centers sponsored by the Granite City park district throughout the community.

Elimination events were held last week at individual playground sites to determine the semi-finalist boys and girls.

The first-place winner, who received a trophy for competing in the Hula Hoop twirling category, was followed by runner-up Delores Dohwatt, ten, 3033 Dale avenue, representing Wilson center.

In the nine-and-under division, Lisa Kee, nine, 2566 Ivy lane, from Parkview center, was the top competitor, with Carlene Robertson, nine, 2514 West 23rd street, Logan center, receiving second place.

Official contest rules declare the Kee girl as runner-up in the all "All-City" competition and eligible to compete in the statewide meet.

Mrs. Helen Bjorkman, summer recreation supervisor, said.

Performing to the beat of rock and roll music, and adding their own accompaniment with the "hoop shop" sound of their hoops, the youngsters were judged in such events as the Knee Knocker, the Stork, Alley Oop, Hula Hop and Wrap-the-Mummy.

An opportunity to amass additional points was provided during a free-style routine in which each youngster performs his or her own gyrations using one or more hula hoops.

Serving as head judge for the city contest was Terry Reid. Other judges were Pat Parker, Denis West, Paula Burgerer, Robyn Robertson, Brenda Brown, Donna Keuenhoff, Mary Milton, Jane Kerch, Gail Porches, Margaret Hutchings, Iris Stovall and Janet Ronk.

Semifinalists and the playgrounds they represented included: Diane Lewis and Barbara Stewart, Lincoln Place Community center;

Susan Black, Marshall; Mary Brawley and Shawn King, Nameoki; Debbie Bigham and Mary Burns, Nidringhaus; Elizabeth Wilson, Parkview; Deanna Derossett and Diane Baetker, Salvation Army; Donna Wagner and Pamela Collins, Washington; and Judy Evans from the Wilson center.

All-city winners from many communities in Illinois will compete here Aug. 1, with the state champions then vying in one of 13 regional contests. Regional winners will receive an all-expense paid trip to the national finals at the Universal Film Studios, Hollywood, Calif., in late August.

More than 475 city parks, recreation departments and YMCA's in all 50 states are currently holding elimination events.

Teenagers to March

Christian Faith Rally, Parade Set for Friday

Teenagers from 25 churches in Granite City will hold a march and rally as a demonstration of their faith beginning at 7 p.m. Friday at the main post office, 24th street and Madison avenue.

The parade will proceed up Madison avenue and disband at the main entrance to Wilson Park at 27th and State streets. More than 1000 high school and college students are expected to participate.

Featured speaker will be Jack Brown, a former narcotics addict with a criminal record. Entertainment will be provided by the 150-voice "Up with People" group from St. Louis and by the New Life Singers. Theme of the march and rally will be the folk song, "They Will Know We Are Christians by Our Love."

It is intended to provide a powerful and appropriate response to the issues and a contrast to the negative approaches used by some demonstrators. From the participating churches, a central committee composed of clergymen of the Catholic, Assemblies of God, Lutheran and Baptist churches has formulated plans for the march.

Support also has been given by the Roca club, Young Life, CYO and the Youth Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

All teenagers in the area are being invited to participate. Interested persons may phone 877-8111 for further information.

2860 Needy Students Obtain Summer Jobs

A total of 2860 needy students have jobs this summer because of the response of metropolitan area private industry to the National Alliance of Business' summer youth program, according to Martin L. Dugan, area chairman.

The 1970 program was expected to be adversely affected by the widespread tight economic conditions. Early predictions anticipated that the program would be fortunate to find 500 to 1000 jobs, far less than the 1969 total of 2462.

The program is designed to find jobs for disadvantaged high school students between the ages of 16 and 21.

TEENAGERS PREPARE PLACARDS for their Christian demonstration, a march and rally, set for Friday evening. The signs read "God is Alive & Well," "Try a Little Christianity," "God Makes It," "Walk with the Lord" and other slogans.

Chosen to Study Year in Austria

John T. Papa, who has just completed his freshman year at the University of Notre Dame with high honors, has been selected by the university to study during his sophomore year in Austria.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Papa, 1807 Third street, Madison, he will be 19 in October.

William M. Burke, of the Freshman Year of Studies, Notre Dame, informed the Papa family that their son is on the Dean's List, composed of a select group of superior students who have maintained a scholastic average of 3.25 or above during the previous year. He completed the last quarter with a 3.852 grade average and 4.0 for the semester, with 34 hours.

There are four universities which a student may attend during his sophomore year in the Notre Dame program. The only requirement other than a high grade average is that the student take a foreign language and was selected as a James Scholar by the University of Illinois.

Thirty-six young men from Notre Dame and 12 girls from St. Mary's College at Notre Dame, Ind., will participate. They will leave New York City Wednesday and arrive in Austria on Aug. 12 aboard the U.S.S.

GC Youth at Work in Pastoral Internship

Michael Rapoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew T. Rapoff, 2535 Edison avenue, is spending the summer in Bridgeport, Ill., serving as student pastor at the Assembly of God Church there under Rev. William F. Sipes.

Rapoff recently completed his first year at SIU-SW, where he is majoring in history and psychology.

The student pastor will be preaching, working with youth groups and performing at weddings and in all other capacities as a minister or intern pastor. The intern program has been in operation in Assembly of God Churches for three years.

Rapoff has worked with the youth group at the Assembly of God, 24th street and Grand avenue, under Rev. M. A. Groff, pastor.

He also has served as an assistant in the youth department of the YMCA. During the last two Christmas seasons, he was on special missions to Mexico, working in churches there.

Diane Becherer gave an interesting talk regarding the tour of the Tip-Top bakery which was attended by herself and Anne Marie Uram, Kathy Turk, Lisa Stegemeier, Jackie Dorch, Lauren Guber, Elaine Bellue, Cheryl Bellue, Mary Kay Becherer, Kathleen DeRuntz, Laura Jean Mann and Maria Schmidt. Mothers who assisted the leaders with the trip were Mrs. R. Becherer, Mrs. R. Uram, Mrs. J. DeRuntz and Mrs. D. Schmidt.

Mary Anne Bequette, a first year member, gave a demonstration on making oatmeal cookies. The next part of the program on fashions and featured club president Jeanie Schwarzkopf and vice-president, Mary Kay Becherer as commentators. They alternately introduced the models who included first year sewers in "Sewing Unit 1"—Diane Becherer, Jo Marie DeRuntz, Jane Friederich, Rose Marie Horbelt, Anne Marie Uram, Mary Beth Vesel, Mary Anne Bequette, Mary Beth Favier, Carolyn Goldasich, Renee Schmidt and Anita Turner. Second year sewers enrolled in Sewing, Unit 2, were Mary Kay Becherer, Anne DeRuntz and Jeanie Schwarzkopf.

The girls exhibited projects in foods, knitting, baby sitting and dances. Members tried to show their parents what 4-H means and demonstrated their abilities to fill the role of America's future homemakers.

Laura Jean Mann, a first-year member, concluded the meeting by reciting the 4-H creed. Refreshments committee members Teresa Butler, Lisa Stegemeier, Maria Schmidt, Teresa Polson, Carolyn Goldasich, Renee Schmidt, Laura Carich and Kathleen DeRuntz presided at the serving tables. Mothers who assisted were Mrs. R. Uram, Mrs. R. Hinz, Mrs. R. Becherer and Mrs. D. Schmidt.

Free, Reduced Lunches Increase in GC Schools

A total of 158,283 free and reduced-price lunches were served in Granite City public schools cafeterias during the 1969-70 school year, it was reported at a meeting of the board of education Monday night.

This represents 12.7% of the 1,239,729 lunches served during the year. Of the amount, 148,410 lunches were free and 9,873 were provided at reduced prices.

Children participating totaled 1454, compared to 430 the previous year.

At regular student prices, the lunches would have sold for $63,313. Governmental reimbursement will be $52,235, including a 15-cent federal reimbursement on free and reduced lunches, 15-cent state reimbursement on free lunches and the four-cent milk subsidy.

The difference of $10,978 is more than offset by about $5,000 received in surplus commodities from the federal government.

For the year, the district averaged serving more than 900 free or reduced price meals each day. Increased participation this year is due in part to increased community awareness of the program from newspaper articles and word-of-mouth communication.

Eligibility cards were provided by the state public aid office and local township relief offices. Granite City PRESS-RECORD Thurs., July 16, 1970 Page 31

Possible $400,000 GC Municipal Deficit Is Predicted

A warning that Granite City faces a potential deficit of from $400,000 to $500,000 by the end of its 1970-71 fiscal year next April unless it initiates strict economies was sounded Monday night as the city council finance committee made public a proposed new budget and appropriation of $3,158,523.

The budget proposal, presented at a public meeting in the council chambers at city hall, is $228,186 higher than the total appropriation of $2,930,337 suggested by Mayor Donald Partney in his original budget draft, but is $388,620 less than last year's record high budget of $3,745,143.

Alderman R. E. Robertson, chairman of the finance committee, explained that all figures presented in the meeting were "tentative" and that the committee will finalize the appropriation bill for presentation to the city council in its regular meeting Monday night.

Other members of the finance committee are Aldermen Charles Moerlein and Paul Schuler.

Assessments to Drop
The warning of almost certain financial difficulties if the city continues to follow its present spending pattern came from William F. Hoelscher, secretary of the Taxpayers Expenditure Survey Committee.

He told the meeting that any gap between city revenues for the current fiscal year and projected expenditures for the same period will be widened extensively because of downward adjustment of property valuations due to new exemption programs.

At the same time, Hoelscher, the only person to publicly discuss the appropriation figures after they were presented by finance committee members, pointed out that the city this year is collecting taxes on "illegal rates" because its appropriation last year was not legally published.

Refusal to Sign
He pointed out that the 1969-70 budget and appropriation bill, upon which the levy for this year's tax collection was based, was not published until early August last year because the mayor refused to sign the bill and it had to remain on file ten days before becoming law without the mayor's signature.

The time lapse prevented publication before the statutory deadline of July 31. The city council is pressed for time again this year.

Finance committee members said they expect to obtain adoption of the budget in the regular meeting next Monday, but controversies over some points of the budget developing in the meeting indicated a possibility of further revision even after the finance committee completes its work.

Critical of Amounts
Mayor Partney was particularly critical of some variations in salary increases and challenged several of the budget items, including the committee's increase in the air pollution control board account from $7650, as proposed by the mayor, to $20,760, set by the committee. In the event, Partney should follow last year's action in refusing to sign the appropriation bill, it again would require ten days to become law without his signature.

Under these circumstances, there is some question as to whether the measure could be published by July 31.

The principal objection to budget figures came from City Attorney Leon Scroggins after the committee presented an appropriation for the legal department in which salaries for Scroggins and Assistant City Attorney Harry E. Hartman were cut in half.

Would Have to Resign
"If you persist in adoption of the budget as it is here, I will have to resign as city attorney," Scroggins told the finance committee and other council members attending the meeting.

Scroggins said that, on the basis of the volume of work he does for Granite City, "this salary would not even pay for a stenographer and the office expenses."

The committee's budget provides only $9490 in total expenditures for the legal department, a cut of $11,500 from the $20,990 set up for the legal department in the mayor's original budget.

The $9490 budgeted by the committee includes a salary of $6000 (present salary $12,500) for Scroggins and a salary of $3000 for Hartman, whose present salary is $6000.

The committee budget eliminated any appropriation for attorneys attending the meeting. The mayor's figure of $800 for supplies was cut by the committee to $200, and a sum of $800 for legal expense fixed by the mayor also was cut to $200.

Scroggins said the finance committee should consult with the Bar Association before adopting such a low legal budget to see if there is any attorney who would take this job at such a salary.

Because of elimination of the comptroller's office earlier this year, the finance committee created an entirely new account in which expenditures are budgeted exclusively for the city clerk's office. In the past, expenses of the city clerk's office were appropriated in the legislative account.

As a result, the committee set a budget of $37,500 for the legislative account, down from the mayor's proposal of $56,224 which included city clerk expenditures.

The budget for the new city clerk's account was set at $45,445, including a salary of $11,400 for City Clerk Robert Stevens. The city clerk's budget also provides a $5750 salary for the deputy city clerk and $1870 in salaries for three fulltime clerks.

In presenting the budget of $30,700 for the air pollution board account, Alderman Moerlein said the appropriation "should permit us to get some results."

Partney challenged the amount as unnecessary expense because of reorganization of the Illinois State Environmental Agency which, he said, intends to do all the enforcement work. Some council members also questioned the committee's further reduction of the budget for the sewer maintenance account, out of which the city has been paying the major portion of its sewer repair bills.

Mayor Partney had set up $27,850 for sewer maintenance, but the committee's budget proposed this account at $13,540. Last year, the sewer maintenance budget was $326,250, and it is the slash in this figure that reflects most of the total decrease in this year's new budget proposal.

Bond Fund Item
The committee also set a figure of $138,450 for projected expenditures out of the Particular Area No. 3 Sewerage System improvement bond retirement fund, an item not included on the mayor's proposed budget.

Robertson pointed out that this figure, in addition to an additional $36,000 needed to meet all salary increases, made up the difference between the total of the mayor's budget and the total of the committee's budget.

A budget of $401,627 was proposed for the fire department in the finance committee budget, a decrease below the mayor's budget of $443,788 and approximately $45,000 from the 1969-70 fire department budget of $449,289.

The fire department appropriation includes $37,500 for a new 1000-gallon pump. The mayor's budget had set $50,000 for this purpose.

Other proposed purchases during the current fiscal include $14,000 for new parking meters, an item contained in the account for parking meter operation, totaling $68,799.

The proposed budget for the police department totals $460,388. Mayor Partney had budgeted $487,906 for police purposes. Last year's police budget was $467,802.

The police department budget set by the committee includes $150,000 for new police cars at a cost of $16,972.

Treatment Costs Up
A total of $289,396 was budgeted by the committee for operation of the sewage treatment plant, an increase over last year's $226,238. Partney proposed a total of $233,661 for the treatment plant.

In his discussion of the budget, Hoelscher, who also is executive secretary of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities, told the council that he did not see how it could adopt a realistic budget without a final 12-month report on its 1969-70 fiscal operations which ended April 30.

A final report has not been presented to the council as a result of the elimination of the comptroller's office on May 1 and the resignation a short time later of former City Clerk Homer Pendleton, who was to take over the comptroller's duties.

Hoelscher told "city officials that industry in Granite City does not plan to protest this year's tax bills because of the late publication of last year's appropriation ordinance, "but you are going to have to publish this year by July 31."

He pointed out that the bulk of the reduction in this year's budget results from the $550,000 cut in the sewer maintenance account, indicating that appropriations for all other items are about the same as last year.

Income Estimated
"On the basis of your known income this year," Hoelscher said, "you can expect about $1,713,000 in tax income. With other income you should have a total of $2.8 million."

"These estimates, however, are based on present valuations. You must remember that under new laws you already have lost $1,980,000 in real estate valuations for next year's tax income under the homestead exemptions; you have lost more than $4 million in personal property values on autos, and you have lost more than $2 million in assessments on household furnishings."

"On this basis, you can look forward to a loss of $100,000 in revenue next year.

The anticipated income and the budgeted expenditures indicate a deficit of about $400,000 next year, even if you borrow the full amount of working cash funds available ($223,000).

"You also will have a $170,000 deficit you will have to pay back to the sewer reserve fund for the loan you made to pay sewer repairs recently."

Hoelscher commended the council for "getting through a bad financial situation during the past year without borrowing money at interest rates . . . but you might not get through next year."

"The time to make the hard decision is now, rather than worrying about the lack of money later in the fiscal year."

Urges Budget Cut
He urged the council to make a 10% reduction in the budget and said he realized it was a difficult task because of the shortness of time. He offered the aid of the Taxpayers Committee.

Hoelscher warned the council against permitting a financial crisis that would require a utility tax as a means of solving the problem.

"There has been talk about a utility tax or other taxes," Hoelscher said. "The utility tax affects everyone and it affects industry in such a way that if a utility tax were adopted as the result of a financial squeeze, I am certain you would not see any more industrial development in this area."

He pointed out that all individual personal property taxes are likely to be eliminated through a statewide referendum next November. "If it is, you are going to lose $800,000 in revenue," he said.

Challenges Census Figures
At this point, Mayor Partney pointed out that Granite City will lose $23,000 in income tax allocations, as well as an yet undetermined amount of motor fuel taxes, as a result of the new 1970 census figures.

This brought an assertion from Alderman Walter Nunn that the census figures "can't be true."

"I can't believe we're a city of just 36,000," the alderman declared.

Nunn told Hoelscher that he thought it unfair for the city council to be blamed for the full amount of the budget.

The appropriation for the library and that for the sewage treatment plant are separate tax

Census Bureau Plans Employment Survey

The Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment and unemployment in this area during the week of July 19, Theodore F. Olson, director of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago announced today.

The households to be interviewed here are part of a scientifically designed sample that is representative of the entire U. S. population. The employment and unemployment statistics are collected monthly by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation as a whole and of its major regions. Questions on employment similar to those in the sample survey were asked of the entire population in the 1970 decennial census, now being compiled. Bureau officials point out, however, that the monthly survey is essential as the source of current employment data.

Facts supplied by individuals participating in the survey are kept confidential and the results are used only to compile statistical results. The law safeguarding the privacy of the individual applies to all information collected by the Census Bureau.

levy accounts which have their own tax rates and are not a part of the city's general operation, he said.

Hoelscher pointed out that all levies or not, are city accounts and make up the $1.04 tax rate that was billed against Granite City taxpayers this year.

A Good Thing
Alderman Paul Rutledge told Hoelscher that "what you (the tax committee group) are doing is a wonderful thing, but I think it came three or four years too late. Everyone knows I have talked economy for years."

"But things are now at the point where our streets are in deplorable condition. We could spend $100,000 immediately to take care of some of the problems. But we don't have it."

"We have a police department and a fire department that are undermanned."

"You are three or four years too late, but what you are doing is a good thing," Rutledge repeated.

CALF ROPING, one of five exciting major contest events spectators will see Saturday and Sunday at the Granite City Jaycees' "World Championship Rodeo" at Tri-City Speedway. Coordination is essential between man and horse, plus lots of practice. The roping art is displayed by Kenny Wright of Roswell, Ga., one of a new breed of cowboys from the booming cattle industry of the southeastern states.

Top-Ranked Cowboys to Compete in Rodeo Here

Granite City Jaycees have received word that an estimated 75 cowboys will compete in the "World Championship Rodeo" to be sponsored by the Jaycees at 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday at the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki road.

Although most of the cowboys entered in the local Jaycee rodeo will be professional members of the International Rodeo Association, Gary Davis, local rodeo chairman, noted that local area competitors can also vie for honors here this weekend.

According to IRA rules, any contestant living within 25 miles of the rodeo arena can compete as a local entry without becoming a member of the association.

Non-IRA members must, however, pay the same entry fee ($15) for each contest as do the professionals. The local cowboy must also sign a waiver of liability release, as is required of IRA members. All the contestants compete under the same set of rules, revamped annually by the IRA board of governors at its convention in January.

Competition rulebooks are available through Davis at Gateway Drywall and Decorating, 408 Braden avenue, or by calling 618-876-5999 or 618-451-4772.

Davis, designated official rodeo secretary, as required under IRA rules, will accept entries starting at 9 a.m. Friday through 2 p.m. Sunday, when the formal rodeo record books will close.

Even though they compete against the best the IRA has to offer, local cowboys often place high in rodeo competition, Davis said, noting that audience support usually leans toward contestants from home towns.

Between 25 and 35 professional cowboys, who travel the rodeo circuit, reside off-season in the St. Louis area. Many have indicated they will appear in the local show.

Professional rodeos have become the most highly competitive individual professional sport in the world and, in recent years, have reached an age of specialization, an IRA official pointed out. So competitive are the individual events that cowboys have been forced to concentrate their talents on just one event, he said.

There are several particularly gifted cowboys, Davis said, called "all-around" competitors who are considered the "cream of the rodeo crop" and annually search for rodeo's most coveted of all titles—"World Champion All-Around Cowboy."

Top Ten Cowboys
In 1965, the International Rodeo Association started a permanent numbering system for its Top Ten All-Around Cowboys.

In this system, the top ten competitors in the all-around title class are assigned green and white felt numerals that represent their finish in the previous year's title race.

The five major contest events which are considered include bareback bronc riding (BR); calf roping (CR); saddle bronc riding (SB); steer wrestling (SW); and Brahma bull riding (BB). All of these events will be contested at the Granite City rodeo.

Assigned permanent competition numbers for the 1970 season, representing their 1969 positions, are the following contenders, including two Illinoisans, listed with their home city, the events in which they compete and the amount of prize money earned last year:

ROWE FAMILY of Lakeland Fla., will add dazzling daredevil high jumping and flying pony express mounts to the World Championship Rodeo this weekend at Tri-City Speedway. From left are Justin, Lenore and Bill Rowe; they will appear at both the Saturday and Sunday performances.

MARTY MARTINS, protege of another Illinois cowboy, Tom Orr, up where the air gets thin on a horse aptly named Skydiver. Martins, who says he spit out several tons of arena soil while learning to ride, has developed into a fine bareback rider.

Town Boards Given Budget, Levy Authority

The Township Officials Association of Illinois this week hailed the signing by Gov. Ogilvie of township budget and levy bills passed by the June special session of the Illinois General Assembly.

Troy Kost, executive secretary, and John J. Nimrod, a director of the association headquartered at Astoria, called the bills "the most important township legislation to be adopted in years."

Kost said the two township bills place more than 1400 township governmental units in 85 Illinois counties under provisions of the state budgetary law for the first time.

This modernizes township government by giving it the same budget and levy rights as every other local governmental unit in the state—such as cities, park boards and school boards—subject to the same controls and restrictions," Kost said.

"It eliminates the danger of special interest groups stacking township officials answerable to all the voters for these important fiscal matters instead of just to those few who show up at the town meeting."

Nimrod, supervisor of Illinois townships in Cook county, noted that the two "milestone" bills were passed despite opposition spearheaded by the mayor of Chicago.

"The mayor wants to extend his powers into the suburbs," Nimrod explained. "The quickest way would be to destroy suburban township government. This would create a vacuum in services that the mayor would quickly fill by rushing Chicago precinct captains to operate in the suburbs at suburban expense."

"Unfortunately, his opposition to 30 townships in the suburbs made questions of importance to all the townships in the state the subject of a partisan dispute. His effect was so great that downstate legislators from his own party abandoned township government, which they formerly supported."

"While the budget and levy bills managed to survive the partisanship, the township collector bill failed to pass the Illinois House of Representatives by a single vote," Nimrod noted.

"This feature will have immediate adverse effects on the counties where townships have had local tax collectors—Cook, Will, Peoria, Madison and Sangamon counties."

"The most undesirable result will be a 1½ per cent increase in taxes because this is what local township taxing bodies will lose to the respective county general funds."

"Failure of this bill also will deprive the other townships in the state the option of adopting the township collector system after the forthcoming county board reappointments," Nimrod added.

He said township government should be a non-partisan or bi-partisan matter because it provides all the people with services available from no other government and because both parties are amply represented among the more than 10,000 township officials in the state.

He said the state township of fiscal associations and various local organizations will reintroduce the township collector bill when the state legislature reconvenes after the Nov. 3 election.

MUSICAL ARTISTS JULY 20 at the Mississippi River Festival, SIU-SW, will be Smokey Robinson and The Miracles. They project Detroit's "Motown" sound and are striving "to stay in the tradition of the great singing groups."

Smokey Robinson at River Festival Monday

"It's like a song that means something," says Smokey Robinson, "not just a lot of words and rhyme but words that will touch somebody."

Smokey and the Miracles will be the Monday, July 20, attraction at the Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus. Concert time is 8:30 p.m.

Vice-president of Motown Record Corp. and lead singer of The Miracles, Robinson is one of the country's foremost songwriters. Rock artist Bob Dylan calls him "America's greatest living poet."

In addition to writing for The Miracles, he also writes and produces songs for The Temptations, Marvin Gaye, Diana Ross and The Supremes, Brenda Holloway and The Marvellettes. He has also written for Sonny and Cher, the Rolling Stones, the Beatles and dozens of other top-running artists.

Smokey's career began in 1958 when he met Berry Gordy Jr., founder and head of Motown Records. At that time, Gordy was producing records but had not yet started his now multi-million-dollar recording empire.

Soon after the two joined forces, The Miracles recorded "Got a Job," which hit the top of the charts and started Robinson and The Miracles and the newly-formed Motown Records.

Baldwin Plant Operating, Turbine Peaking Unit Here

Illinois Power Company's new residential usage to create a peak demand. They will be operated by remote control from IP's Wood River power plant. Similar peaking units of 70,000 kilowatts capacity are being installed at Oglesby, near La Salle.

With the operation of the 600,000-kilowatt unit at Baldwin and the two new peaking units, IP's generating capacity will be increased as the full capacity of the 600,000-kilowatt generator is reached consistently in continued operation at the plant.

The first Baldwin unit, to be joined by a second of like size in 1973, first produced electricity May 31 when it reached a maximum output of 100,000 kilowatts, one-sixth of its rated capacity.

On June 30, during hot and humid weather, generation at the power station reached 500,000 kilowatts and helped meet the demand for peak loads of electricity for IP customers and provide power for export to neighboring utilities.

Construction already has started on a second, 600,000-kilowatt unit at Baldwin to be in operation in 1973. This unit will virtually double the size of the plant, which is along the canalized Kaskaskia River in Randolph county.

Use Unit at Stallings
This week, Illinois Power expects to operate for the first time one of the turbine peaking units at Stallings, northeast of Granite City.

Four units are being installed for a capability of 100,000 kilowatts of electricity, which will be used mainly during hot weather when heavy air-conditioning loads combine with normal industrial, commercial and

Sermon on Origin, Preservation of Life

Questions about the origin and preservation of life are answered from a metaphysical viewpoint in the lesson-sermon on "Life" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 19.

One of the readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science, states:

"We apprehend Life in divine Science only as we live above corporeal sense and correct it. Our proportionate admission of the claims of good or of evil determines the harmony of our existence—our health, our longevity and our Christianity."

One of the Bible passages is from Job: "The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life."

All are welcome to attend services beginning at 10:45 a.m. at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar avenue.

Athletic Field At Grigsby JHS To Be Improved

The Granite City board of education decided to improve physical education and athletic fields at Grigsby junior high school Monday night.

The complete area of the field is to be plowed, with the exception of the area bordering the road. It then will be disked several times, a land leveler used two or three times and the fields will be fertilized and seeded.

An area farmer is to be contracted with to do the work, and a land leveler is to be rented for $150. Seed and fertilizer will cost about $1400.

The football team will practice this fall in the area in front of the building between the drive and the road, on the Pontoon road side.

Saving on Data Processing
The board approved rental of IBM data processing equipment from the MAI Equipment Co. at a saving of $975 per year. The district previously rented the equipment from the IBM Corp.

A one-year lease purchase plan also is available. The one-year lease from MAI is $687 per month, compared to the IBM rate of $787.

A contract to seal and chip 2400 square yards of the area at the board offices was canceled, as no work has been done since a bid of $1437 was approved on Dec. 6, 1968. The contract was given Monday night to the A. H. Seebold Co., second low bidder at the time at $1445; Seebold agreed to do the work at the same rate.

Night Patrols at Schools
The board agreed to use the services of the A&B Detective Agency of Granite City to patrol Mitchell and Stallings schools during weekends, making three checks per night to help prevent break-ins. The cost is $18.50 per week.

The administration was authorized to hire two additional painters for three weeks at a cost of about $1500. They will paint the bleachers at Granite City high school and conduct other painting in the district.

Uniform dress codes for boys and girls in all of the junior high schools in the district were proposed, and board members decided to set the proposal aside pending consideration of a dress code for elementary school pupils.

Host Division Dinner
The board agreed to host a divisional fall dinner meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards Oct. 20 at the APPOINTMENTS AND PROMOTIONS approved by city officials in Granite City include Terry May, left, former humane officer who has been appointed as a patrolman on the police department; Dale Higginbotham, center, named humane officer to succeed May in that post; and Robert Harris, right, who has been promoted from engineer to captain on the fire department.

Bakalis Campaigning Cites Education Needs

Dr. Michael J. Bakalis, the Democratic candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, on a 39-county tour of central and southern Illinois this and next week, is telling citizens that residents of rural school districts are "being cheated out of important educational programs." He will appear in East St. Louis, Belleville and the Madison county fair at Highland July 22.

Bakalis said a survey conducted by his opponent, the current superintendent, shows that rural Illinois school districts are "woefully inadequate" in educational programs which teachers say are urgently needed.

"Twenty-five per cent of high school freshmen in Illinois in 1965 did not graduate with their classes. Illinois ranks 31st among the 50 states in this regard and is below the national average. When my opponent took office, this statistic was 18%; in other words, the percentage of Illinois high school students graduating with their class is actually declining," Bakalis said.

"The most pressing need of the high schools in southern Illinois is high school.

A. Testier & Son of the Nameoki Village shopping center was authorized to present 10% discount cards to clothing teachers for distribution to pupils, who are to receive a discount on fabrics purchased at the store.

A request by the Granite City office of civil defense to use Marshall school to store four pieces of radiological monitoring equipment and five pounds of medical supplies and concentrated food was approved.

nois is for a dropout prevention program. Yet, among smaller school districts (less than 1000 students), only one in 24 now has this kind of program. Our progress in solving this problem has been painfully slow. Only 15 of Illinois' 1220 school districts added such a program in 1969.

Vocational, Special Education
"Another of the school needs most frequently mentioned by educators is the creation of programs for vocational education, which can be instrumental in reducing the dropout rate. Yet four out of five small school districts in this state do not have any opportunity for children interested in vocational education."

"Educators from southern Illinois rank the need for special programs for the socially and emotionally handicapped among the three they considered most urgent. Yet, half of all small districts in Illinois have no psychological counseling; seven out of ten of these districts have no program for the emotionally disturbed or socially maladjusted."

"The list of deficiencies goes on. My opponent likes to boast about what he has done for Illinois schools, but the facts tell a different story."

"He states that Illinois' program for handicapped children 'is the best in the world.' This is surprising considering that over 50% of the state's school districts have no program at all for the blind and partially sighted, the deaf and hard of hearing, the perceptually handicapped, the physically handicapped and the multiple-handicapped. Among districts with less than 1000 students, over 70% of them offer none of these programs."

Births, Deaths Show Rise Over Six Months of 1969

A total of 47 deaths in the Quad-City area during June was an increase of eight over the 39 deaths occurring in the previous month of May, but was nearly double the total of 24 deaths reported during June 1968, according to a vital statistics report released this week by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The report showed 109 births last month, a decrease of five below the May total of 105 but an increase of 19 over the 81 reported in June a year ago.

One fetal death occurred in the area last month, compared with two in May and two in June a year ago.

The area is running well ahead of the 1968 year in both the number of births and deaths for the first six months of the year, Stevens' report shows.

The 100 births occurring in June brought the total for the six months of this year to 612, an increase of 69 over the total of 543 for the six-month period of a year ago, while the 47 deaths in June brought this year's total to 245, an increase of 24 over the 221 reported in the first half of 1968.

The fetal death in June brought the year's total to five, the same number occurring in the first half of 1968. There was one stillbirth in January; one in April, two in May and one last month.

The number of births and deaths, in that order, for the first six months of the year, was reported as follows:

January, 102-45; February, 108-39; March, 101-34; April, 94-41; May, 105-39; and June, 100-47.

Cell Function Topic Of SIU-SW Research

A grant for $20,000 has been awarded to SIU-SW by the National Institute of General Medical Sciences. The grant is under the direction of Michael Levy of the biological sciences faculty of the Science and Technology Division.

The research, "Biochemical and Ultrastructural Studies on 'Organelles,'" is the study of different parts of living cells and their function in relation to metabolism. It will include cell responses to environmental changes.

McSpadden Covering Indochina Fighting

David McSpadden, a brother of Mrs. Margie Ellsworth, 2433 East 24th street, is currently a featured writer for the "Black Horse," 11th Armored Cavalry magazine. He was spotlighted in the June issue with coverage of the military sweep in Cambodia.

Serving in Cambodia and then Vietnam as a military historian, he will return to the U. S. in August. His work will be sealed in the national archives for 15 years and then will be opened to the public.

McSpadden graduated from Granite City high school and attended Illinois University. He is married to the former Suzanne Nicholas of Rockford, Ill., who joined him in Hawaii in June for a week. He has seen service in Vietnam, twice in Tokyo and three times in Hawaii.

Agency Serving War Vets Marks 40th Year

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie has proclaimed the week of July 19-25 as "Veterans Administration Anniversary Week" for Illinois. The proclamation points out that the VA will observe its 40th anniversary on July 21.

John B. Naser, director of the Chicago VA Regional Office for the state, said appropriate observances will be held by all VA facilities throughout Illinois during the week.

Gov. Ogilvie's proclamation points out that there are 1.7 million veterans in Illinois and that, during the fiscal year 1969, the Veterans Administration expended $400 million in this state.

He said, "I extend my congratulations to the agency and urge all Illinois citizens to join in a deserved tribute to this organization for its vital services to our veterans and their families."

Salvation Army Officers Begin New Assignment

Lieut. Donald Noyes and his wife, Lieut. Irene Noyes, with their three children, Mark, seven, Deborah, five, and David, two, have begun their duties as leaders of the Salvation Army organization in the Quad-City area.

The young and energetic couple has just completed a three-year appointment in Columbia, Mo.

Lieut. Donald Noyes comments, "I find this a very pleasant community, with both small community and big city advantages. We hope to serve the area and help make it an even better place to live."

Both he and his wife are natives of Kansas City, Mo. He began his career in the Salvation Army in 1955 while attending the University of Kansas. Mrs. Noyes had attended Salvation Army services and other activities as a child and continued to work in SA projects as a young adult.

Both took two-year training in Chicago, becoming ordained ministers in June 1967.

Mrs. Noyes has three brothers and three sisters still living in the Kansas City area and her husband comes from a family of 11 brothers and one sister who make their homes in the Wichita area.

The new arrivals are living at 5500 Delmar avenue and are preparing for the fall program, including the United Fun Fair, United Fund campaign, Tree of Lights and a January capital fund campaign. The Salvation Army has been active in the Quad-City area since 1923.

Funds for 18 Library Systems, Four Centers

Appropriations amounting to $5,497,093 for the state's 18 library systems and $400,000 to the four research and reference centers were announced this week by Paul Powell, secretary of state and state librarian.

Senate Bills 1297 and 1298, signed into law by Governor Ogilvie, provide the funds for establishment grants and an annual per capita and area grants under the Illinois Library System Act of 1960.

The bills amend the Library System Act to increase appropriations from 40 to 50 cents per capita and $15 per square mile of the area served for all systems including Chicago.

Powell cited the per capita increase in expressing gratification at continued support of the library systems program.

"The alert understanding among professionals, trustees and lay friends of libraries should be a matter of just pride to everyone in the state," he said.

The 18 public library systems serve approximately 450 local libraries throughout Illinois. Headquarters for the 18 systems are located in Rockford, Wheaton, Western Springs, Chicago, Joliet, Ottawa, Moline, Monmouth, Peoria, Bloomington, Quincy, Decatur, Champaign, Edwardsville, Florissant, Belleville, Carterville and Morton Grove.

NEW LOCAL OFFICERS of the Salvation Army, Donald Noyes and his wife, Irene, The two lieutenants are shown with their son, David, during an interview with Donna Hogan of the Press-Record news staff.

Saturday Last Day Till Fall for Park ID Cards

Granite City park district families may apply for new identification cards between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Saturday at the Wilson Park office.

Harold Brown, superintendent of parks and recreation, said today.

The park ID cards, which enable local residents to participate in various activities at reduced cost, will be issued for the final time this summer during the four-hour period. Issuance of ID cards will not resume until fall, he added.

Thomas to Speak at Local Church Sunday

Burrus Thomas will be guest minister at Central Christian Church Sunday, July 19. His subject will be "By What Authority?" and the Scripture will be Matthew 21:23-32.

Thomas resides in St. Louis and is a retired minister. During his active ministry, he served churches in Kansas and other states in the Midwest. In recent years, he has served many of the churches in the St. Louis area as interim pastor, among them the First Christian Church in East St. Louis and Maplewood Christian Church.

$2,381,250 Budget for Symphony Orchestra

At its initial meeting of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra Society executive committee presided over by the new president, Ben H. Wells, a budget for 1970-71 of $2,381,250 was approved for recommendation to the board of directors. Expenses in 1969-70 are expected to total $2,275,000.

James Cain is the 1970-71 manager, succeeding Peter Pastreich, who has been named executive director of the Society.

Cain joined the St. Louis Symphony as development director in February 1968 and had served as assistant manager since June 1968. He previously served as executive director of the Aspen, Colo., Music Festival.

A native of Columbus, O., and a graduate of Ohio State University, Cain founded a concert series at the Columbia Gallery of Fine Arts, served as Music Critic of the Columbus Citizen, and was president of James Cain Concert Management, which arranged North American tours for European artists.

Pastreich was appointed manager of the St. Louis Symphony in January 1967 after having served as associate manager of the orchestra since April 1966.

Cain's previous experience includes having been manager of the Kansas City Philharmonic and the Nashville, Tenn., Symphony, and assistant manager of the Denver and Baltimore Symphonies.

A graduate of Yale University, he organized and managed European tours by the Yale University Band in 1959 and 1962.

Wells, president of the Symphony Society, has hailed the promotion of Pastreich to manager. "The size of the Symphony's operation and the extent of its service have grown so rapidly that this administrative reorganization has become both necessary and desirable."

"We are fortunate to have in James Cain a man familiar with the orchestra's problems and capable of assuming the major administrative responsibility the position entails. Peter Pastreich will thus be enabled to concentrate his considerable energy and talents on the Society's financial development and long-range planning."

Oxygen Furnaces Add To Steel Output Lead

The basic oxygen furnace, since last August the main source of America's steel, widened its production lead over the traditional open hearth process during May, newly-completed statistics showed this week.

The American Iron and Steel Institute said the BOFs poured 5,402,000 tons of steel during the month—nearly 47% of all steel produced in the U. S. in May and nearly a million tons more than open hearth output.

During May, 4,429,000 tons of steel—or 38% of the industry's total output—were produced by the open hearth process.

In April, oxygen converters turned out 5,169,000 tons of steel compared to 4,465,000 tons for open hearths.

Electric furnace production in May reached 1,743,000 tons—or about 15% of the total—compared with 1,761,000 tons in April.

Through the first five months, basic oxygen steel output totaled 25,755,000 tons—2,608,000 tons more than open hearth production of 23,147,000 tons.

All told, American mills poured 56,387,000 tons of steel during the January-May period.

This compares with total output of 58,800,000 tons for the comparable period of last year.

According to the AISI, 11,574,000 tons of steel were produced in this country during May. This was an increase of about 188,000 tons over April's 11,386,000 ton output, and compared with May 1968 production of 12,356,000 tons. AISI's steelmaking index, based on average production during the 1957-1959 period as 100, stood at 149.3 in May 1970. This compares with an April 1970 index of 142.6, and an index of 149.3 for May 1969.

"THE SLIM GYM"

They don't wear 'em like they used to. You see what the competition is wearing this summer. And the less there is to the suit, the less there should be of the girl. Men do compare, you know. So if you're over the playboy size, why not try to make a habit of losing a dress size in two weeks and slenderizing with the SLIM GYM.

FOR FREE home demonstration call: PAT SCHUMANN, 931-2571. You can start your planned program of exercise today for $10.00 per month.

ANSWERS FOR TOMORROW'S TOUGH QUESTIONS. Carl E. Mathias, 34 Oaklawn drive, service area manager of Illinois Power Co., (seated) working on solutions to business and social problems of the new decade or two. He and 30 other executives with substantial management experience came to the University of Illinois from 11 states and overseas for a five-week Executive Development Program which runs through July 24.

Emphasis on keeping ahead of rapid change is a key feature of the program, headed by Director William F. Egloff (standing), a former corporation president. Egloff says each executive "is encouraged to develop his own analyses in addition to a healthy attitude toward inquiry, other points of view, and himself."

On hand to help is a 23-member live-in faculty, including nine specialists imported from business and other universities. The "students" and faculty face and examine present and future changes in life values and business practices, and pioneering approaches to the complex problems of the 1970s and 1980s.

The organization will be led by Rich Stille, treasurer, and Tom Czernow, secretary. Committee members are responsible to the two elected officers.

Chairmen elected are Charles Collet for entertainment, with his co-chairmen, Tony Young, Collette Andre, chairman of fund-raising projects; Lynn Sagers, food; Steve Barty, public relations; and Steve Lynn, maintenance.

The Coffee House was organized for young people between the ages of 13 and 20, and their meetings on Tuesday evenings are open to the public.

Open on Fridays and Saturdays from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Sundays from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. the Coffee House has special musical groups each week. Tomorrow Phil McGovern and Mike Johnson will appear; on Saturday night, Bill Ogden is scheduled to play his guitar.

Faces Three Traffic Charges After Crash

Charles Koller, 34, of 2023 Troy street, Cloverleaf addition, was arrested on three charges by Madison police Monday following an accident in which a traffic signal standard at Sixth street and McCambridge avenue was knocked down.

Police said the car that struck the signal standard was found abandoned on Highland avenue near Fourth street.

Witnesses told police the man who abandoned the car left in a white auto occupied by four other persons. Officers alleged that license plates on the abandoned 1966 auto were issued to Koller.

Koller later appeared at Madison police headquarters and reported his auto had been stolen while he was at the home of a friend in Pontoon Beach. Koller's friend, however, was listed as the registrant of the license plates on the white auto in which the driver of the brown auto had been seen leaving the area, police reported.

Police booked Koller on charges of reckless driving, destruction of city property and leaving the scene of an accident. He posted his driver's license pending a hearing in magistrate court.

Vets' Reemployment Rights Office Named

Illinois, Indiana and southern Wisconsin servicemen returning to civilian life can now obtain assistance in securing reemployment rights under federal law from the U. S. Department of Labor's Labor-Management Services Administration office in Chicago.

Announcement that his office, in Room 773, Federal Building, 219 S. Dearborn street, Chicago, is responsible for administration of the veterans' reemployment rights provisions of the Military Selective Act of 1967 was made today by Martin E. Mayernik, area administrator.

The law protects the job rights of men and women who leave their jobs to perform service and training in the armed forces. It covers those who enlist as well as those who are inducted. Reservists and National Guardsmen performing training duty—drills, summer encampments and cruises—also have reemployment protection. Generally speaking, the law provides that the eligible ex-serviceman or ex-servicewoman is to be restored to the seniority, status and rate of pay he or she would have enjoyed had the person never left for service but remained in the continuous employ of his or her pre-service employer.

This protection, Mayernik noted, also is accorded to persons who left jobs but were rejected for military service. "This law is intended to insure that men and women who serve their country—whether in time of peace or war—do not lose their jobs and other employment benefits because of military service," he concluded.
